Wonju Ruins Given Up After UN Forces Gain Precious Time

By LEIF ERICKSON

TOKYO — (AP)—Allied rear-guard forces yielded the ruins of Wonju to an overwhelming horde of Chinese and North Korean Reds today after a bitter holding action that bought precious time.

Red troops entered the burning road and rail center as U. N. forces withdrew to new positions. The Allies had fought fiercely for the city, 55 miles southeast of Seoul, to buy time for the main body of U. N. forces to retreat southwestward from Seoul on the road leading to the southeast port of Pusan.

Hardly Held At Bay

A. P. Correspondent Tom Lambert reported in a delayed dispatch that the main forces Sunday had pulled back south of Osan, 23 air miles south of Seoul. A later field dispatch reported the Chinese entered Osan Monday. It narrowed the gap between the Reds and U. N. forces falling back in Western Korea. That's 50 miles southwest of Wonju and on the main route from the burned and abandoned South Korean capital to Taejeon and Pusan. It was at Osan that the first American soldier to fight in the Korean war was killed last July.

Wonju's defenders battled Saturday, Sunday and Sunday night to keep the Red hordes from sweeping into the gateway city to the heart of South Korea. A web of roads lead from Wonju into the interior.

Held at bay by the grim defenders were seven Chinese armies, possibly 210,000 men, and their Korean Red comrades.

U. S. Casualties Light
Then the defenders abandoned the town and its airstrip. Allied warplanes strafed and fire-bombed Wonju after the withdrawal. An ammunition train was blown up.

U. S. Eighth Army headquarters said Allied casualties were

Truman Says U. S. Will Not Appease Russia

America Headed For Full Mobilization

WASHINGTON — (AP)—President Truman said today Russia's leaders are out "to take over the world, step by step" and warned: "We will fight, if fight we must, to keep our freedom and to prevent justice from being destroyed."

In a personally delivered "State of the Union" message to Congress, Mr. Truman said, too, the United States is "willing, as we have always been, to negotiate honorable settlements with the Soviet Union."

"But we will not engage in appeasement," Mr. Truman's 3,500-word message was first of all a defense of his foreign policy which is geared to the idea of building American and Western European strength to the point where Russia will respect it.

More Taxes Coming

It was second a general outline of what has been done so far in the way of military mobilization and a broad sketching of what is to come.

"We are preparing for full war-time mobilization, if that should become necessary," Mr. Truman said.

As part of that preparation, the president said he wants changes in the draft law, higher taxes, greater wage-price controls powers, "improvement" of labor and federal laws, aid to education, and federal aid for training medical men and women.

He gave no details on any of these. Precisely what he proposes will come out piece-meal later in special messages and through submission of specific legislative proposals to the Congress. Mr. Truman omitted any specific mention of many of the proposals he has called the "fair deal"—such as civil rights laws—which Congress in the past has refused to give him.

Peace Precious

But he emphasized the possible long range nature of the present era of tension and told the legislators they should give continued attention to "the measures which our country will need for the long pull."

Solemnly, the president told the lawmakers they face "as grave a task as any Congress in the history of the republic."

Emphasizing the uncertainty of the times ahead, he said: "Peace is precious to us. It is the way of life we strive for with all the strength and wisdom we possess."

"But more precious than peace are freedom and justice. We will fight, if fight we must, to keep our freedom and to prevent justice from being destroyed."

Mr. Truman pledged that this country will not abandon its leadership of "the community of free nations."

Replying in effect, to recent demands by former President Herbert Hoover and Republican Senator Robert A. Taft that this country limit its military aid to Western Europe, the president de-

Young Fathers Meet Death In Plane Plunge

Icy Highway Fatal
To 3 In Family

(By The Associated Press)

Two young fathers who died in the wreckage of a light plane brought death's weekend toll in Michigan to at least 17.

Fourteen were killed in highway collisions. One man burned to death.

The Sunday plane crash victims were Norman Metzner, of Howell, and Archie G. Perkins, of Millford, both 28.

The engine in their two-seater plane conked out at 600 feet and the craft crashed in a Livingston county cow pasture a mile and a half south of US-16. Both were killed instantly and their bodies were extricated from the wreckage with difficulty.

Three Youths Killed

Each victim was the father of two children.

Two traffic crashes claimed three lives each.

Icy pavement on US-23 near Pinconning was blamed for the collision Saturday that killed three members of a Millersburg family. The victims were Alfred Fleming, 41, driver of the car that skidded into a truck, his wife, Geneva, 37, and their 12-year-old son, Gary.

Three youths died and six other persons were hospitalized early Sunday when a car driven by Albert Ziemann, 20, of Saginaw, failed to stop at an intersection on M-46 and collided with another car.

Flint Couple Drowned

Ziemann was killed, along with two of his passengers, Robert Hoffmeyer, Jr., 22, of Merrill and Vickie Schultz, 17, of St. Charles.

A Flint couple drowned Saturday night when their car plunged through the ice of Swartz Creek near Fenton. The vehicle was found with only its wheels sticking up through the water. The victims were Gene I. Harris, 29, and Helen Alexander, 17.

Four cars piled up in Flint early Sunday morning, killing William E. Marrissey, 41, of Flint, and injured seven others. Police said Marrissey's car and another collided head on and then two more autos hit them.

Two Detroit women died in separate Sunday accidents when cars driven by their husbands were involved in collisions. They were Mrs. Theresa Bolus, 52, and Mrs. Francis Terwilliger, 53. The Bolus' car hit a city bus in Detroit and the accident in which Mrs. Terwilliger died occurred on Marine City highway two miles north of New Baltimore.

Relative Of Escanaba Family Is Victim Of Killer In California

and perhaps his ninth victim. Officers said the tracks indicate Cook had headed north.

The 24-year-old ex-convict from Joplin, Mo., the object of one of the west's greatest man hunts, may be forced to turn back toward the U. S. border by the very nature of the barren desert country to which he has fled.

The FBI and scores of other officers waiting at the border were gambling that two nights on the desert might force Cook to try to run the risk of re-entry into the U. S. He is heavily armed.

Deputy Tied Up

The 1941 blue Buick sedan of Robert H. Dewey, 32, of Seattle, was discovered by police chief Guy Woodward of El Centro, Calif., on a ranch drove south toward the border town of Mexicali, toward San Felipe, yesterday afternoon.

Woodward reported to the FBI that there were bloodstains on the front seat and the license plates were missing from the car.

Dewey's body was found near Ogilby, Calif., Saturday in a sheriff's car after Cook had kidnapped, tied and thrown out deputy Homer Waldrip, 27, of Blythe. Earlier, Cook was sought throughout Arkansas, Texas and Oklahoma for questioning about the missing family of Carl Mosser, his wife and three children from Atwood, Ill.

VISITED AT ESCANABA
One of the victims of the California slaying on Saturday was Robert H. Dewey, son of Fred H.

Eisenhower Receives His First European Troops From France

By CARTER DAVIDSON

PARIS—(AP)—The top military leaders of France met with General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower today to talk, in terms of men and guns, of their contribution to his Atlantic army.

Among them was Gen. Alphonse Juin, career soldier and an Eisenhower colleague of World War II, who is strongly reported due to be the Atlantic army's ground force commander.

Gets Down To Work

The famous American general paid calls on Premier Rene Pleven and Foreign Minister Robert Schuman early today, and then went to the defense ministry to get down to work.

Defense Minister Jules Moch received him privately first, then convened a session of his highest ranking officers and chiefs of staff.

His meeting at the defense ministry was expected to last well into the afternoon. Moch was expected to tell him three French divisions, now in Germany, are at his disposal. Similar pledges have been made by the United States, Britain, Italy, Belgium and other countries.

Million By 1953
Their contributions will form the nucleus of a European international army expected to grow to more than 1,000,000 soldiers, sailors and airmen by 1953.

The famed World War II leader arrived in Paris yesterday to head an international force to defend the west against Communism. At once he served warning that any nation, tempted to test the power of the west had better think long and carefully about starting anything.

In tones as confident as though he had 100 divisions at his command, instead of the dozen or so ready for him to lead, Eisenhower declared yesterday:

"Aroused and united, there is nothing which the nations of the Atlantic community cannot achieve. Let those who might be tempted to put this power to the test, ponder well the lessons of history. The cause of freedom can never be defeated."

"I am here," he declared, "because the United States believes with the rest of the western world that we have, not only the right, but the duty to protect the culture which has been spreading out through the world."

Making it clear that each European member of the Atlantic community "must still continue the hard core of its own defense," Eisenhower said "no amount of outside aid alone could defend Europe."

Tracked By Voice

GRAND RAPIDS — (AP)—Police tracking a burglar in the snow Saturday night lost track of him, but suddenly heard a voice say "ante up." They followed the voice to a garage, and walked into an illegal gambling game.

Hook In Throat

PORT HURON—(AP)—A certain rod hook that became lodged in the throat of 42-year-old Gordon William Plotzke while he was playing was removed by a surgeon.

Five Michigan Blazes Costly

Farmer Dead; Woman
Critically Burned

(By The Associated Press)

Costly fires in five Michigan communities yesterday (Sunday) killed one person, critically burned another and destroyed two churches, a market, a trucking firm building and two homes.

Ora W. Rice, a branch county farmer, died when his two-story frame farmhouse burned down near Coldwater. An overheated stove was blamed.

Mrs. Daisy Clark of Ada was rescued by her sister, Mr. Iva Dykeman, when exploding oil sent flames racing through her apartment. Mrs. Dykeman, who lives in an apartment above her sister's, smelled smoke and went down to investigate. She crawled into the apartment and pulled the unconscious woman out by the feet.

The 81-year-old Immanuel Lutheran church was destroyed in the historic German settlement of Frankentrost, just east of Saginaw.

Rev. H. C. Miller estimated damage to the wooden frame church at $70,000, including the new church organ. The blaze was believed started by defective wiring.

Two teen-age brothers who live nearby, Walter and William Hepsner, rescued most of the communion ware and some sacred vessels.

The Florida market and the adjacent United Trucking Service in the northwest business district of Saginaw was levelled by a three-alarm fire.

Officials estimated damage at $60,000, most of it in equipment. The building was a quonset-type structure.

Young Guided Missile
Physicist Missing;
Foul Play Indicated

ASPEN, Colo. — (AP)—Sheriff's officers today awaited word from the navy before continuing their search for a young physicist who was doing secret research on guided missiles.

The scientist, Ralph Smith, 27, had been missing from his hotel at this mountain ski resort since Friday, Sheriff Leonard Johnson said.

"He isn't anywhere around here; he just disappeared into thin air," Johnson said. "I've notified the navy and the FBI and am waiting to hear from them."

"It appears he met with foul play," Smith and Gordon Bangs, 26, came here from the naval test station at China Lake, Calif., where both are research physicists, for a skiing vacation.

Bangs said Smith disappeared without taking his clothing or personal belongings. Neither had any secret papers, he said.

DETROIT—(AP)—Burns suffered when he fell asleep while smoking in an arm chair Dec. 3 caused the death Sunday of Marion Charron, 42, of suburban Farmington.

Gale Whips Fire In Virginia City

Loss Near Million In Furniture Center

MARTINSVILLE, Va. — (AP)—A wind-lashed blaze cut a million-dollar hole in the heart of this south central Virginia furniture center last night and early today before it was brought under control.

Emballment firemastered the flames about 2 a. m. today after a four-hour fight which left most of one large block a mass of smoking rubble. The whole business district was threatened for some three hours.

Driven by winds of 25 to 30 miles per hour, the fire spread quickly after starting shortly before 10 p. m. in a large tobacco warehouse in this community of 17,000 persons about 50 miles south of Roanoke and just north of the North Carolina line.

In ruins at the finish were the warehouse, three three-story buildings and a two-floor structure, as well as a number of small sheds. Unofficial damage estimates ran as high as $1,000,000.

Believed under control shortly before midnight, the surging flames made a spectacular comeback only a few minutes later to cut away at several structures which had escaped previous damage.

Oak Plaque Is Clue In Hunt For Stolen British Scone Stone

LONDON—(AP)—Scotland Yard officials pored today over a small oak plaque which may provide the first tangible evidence toward unravelling the mystery of the missing Stone of Scone.

The plaque, which bears the history of the Scottish coronation stone, was found Saturday by Albert Edkins, 29-year-old gardener, on a bombed site. It was near Westminster Abbey, from which the relic was stolen Christmas morning.

The 8 by 10 inch piece of oak is believed to be one which rested at the foot of the coronation chair. The inscription reads:

Coronation chair. Made by Walter, the king's painter, at command of Edward I, 1300-1301, to contain the Stone of Scone, brought by the king from Scotland. In this chair every sovereign has been crowned since King Edward II.

Scottish nationalists are generally believed to have stolen the 450-pound stone.

Ministers Scan Asian Problems

Commonwealth Heads
United In London

By JOHN RODERICK

LONDON—(AP)—Britain's Commonwealth Prime Ministers, reunited at last, start talking today about two major Asian trouble spots—Korea and Kashmir.

Their action posed a conciliation challenge for India's Prime Minister Nehru, would-be peacemaker who himself seeks to pour oil on the troubled waters of Korea.

As the conference of Commonwealth leaders entered its second week, a full membership was in attendance for the first time. Pakistan's head man, Liaquat Ali Khan, ended his boycott and arrived in London last night after his colleagues agreed to discuss informally his country's dispute with neighboring India over Kashmir.

That put Nehru on the spot. He had tried to keep the Kashmir issue out of the conference.

The Indian Prime Minister meanwhile continued his so far unrewarded efforts to convince the conferees a new effort must be made to reach an understanding with China's Communists.

With Kashmir set for informal discussions, attempts to weld a unified Commonwealth policy on both the Communists and Korea remained the major item on the agenda for the conference's plenary sessions.

Such a policy gained new urgency from the circulation of proposals by the United States, sent to 30 nations, that the Peiping regime be branded in the United Nations as aggressors.

Another Cease-Fire Bid In Korea Asked Of U. N. By British

LAKE SUCCESS—(AP)—Britain called on the U. N. today to make another effort for a Korean cease-fire, but warned Red China that it might force a break with the free world if it insisted on acceptance of its own terms.

In a major policy declaration, Britain's Sir Gladwyn Jebb at the same time pledged British support as long as U. N. troops continue to fight in Korea. He spoke before the general assembly's 60-nation political committee.

Jebb backed the United States demand that a cease-fire must come before negotiations can begin on other problems.

Escanaba Gets Kiwanis Meet

District Convention Here Next Summer

Escanaba was awarded the 1951 summer convention of the Kiwanis clubs of Wisconsin and Upper Michigan, Secretary Hugh G. Graw of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce announced.

The award was made at the mid-winter conference of Kiwanis club officers held this weekend at the Schroeder hotel in Milwaukee. Attending the meeting are President Walter Dickson and Vice President Rudolph Erickson of the Escanaba club.

The convention date was not announced. Several hundred persons attend the annual conventions.

Escanaba will be host to other large conventions this year. The state meeting of the Veterans of Foreign Wars will bring about 3,000 delegates here in mid-June. About five hundred outdoors writers and photographers in the newspaper, magazine, radio and television fields will come to Escanaba to attend the national convention of the Outdoors Writers Association of America June 30 to July 7.

Geologist Describes Volcano On Ice

BERKELEY, Calif.—(AP)—A "volcano on ice" several thousand years ago in southern British Columbia was described here by a University of California assistant professor of geology.

Dr. William H. Mathews told of the eruption of Mount Garibaldi when that area of present-day Canada was under a great glacial sheet of ice covering everything up to 5,000 feet.

The "volcano on ice" was created when the eruption threw up masses of molten matter. The hot ashes gradually built up a cone covering more than 10 square miles, Dr. Mathews said. Through this cone avalanches of lava poured out onto the surrounding ice causing awesome clouds of steam and hot volcanic dust to rise, the geologist said.

ICE CREAM FOR BANGKOK—(AP)—Way over here in Bangkok you'll soon be able to have American-style ice cream, eskimo pies, popicles and chocolate sundaes.

The first of a chain of "snack bars" is being opened in Rajdamners Avenue. Local and Hong Kong capital is backing an ice cream manufacturing company.

Railways Get More Engines

2,111 Were Diesel, And 11 Steam

LANSING—Class I railroads installed in service more new locomotives in the first 11 months of 1950 than in any corresponding period in the past 27 years and now have more new locomotives on order than at any other time in that period, the Michigan Railroads Association announced today.

New locomotives put in service in the period totaled 2,132, of which 2,111 were diesel, 11 steam and 10 electric. In the same period last year, they installed 1,742, of which 1,687 were diesel and 55 steam. Two hundred new locomotives, including 196 diesel, 2 steam and 2 electric, were put in service in November last year.

Class I railroads on December 1 had 1,657 new locomotives on order, of which 1,634 were diesel, 17 steam and 6 electric, against 969 on order on December 1 last year. In the first 11 months of 1950, Class I railroads placed orders for 2,891 new locomotives, also the greatest number for any corresponding period since 1923.

Iranian Government Controls Sugar

TEHRAN, Iran—(AP)—Foreign purchases of sugar have been taken over by a government monopoly agency as a result of the recently-concluded Russo-Iranian trade treaty.

Dealing in sugar was restored to the free market last year. But with the contract to buy 750,000 metric tons of sugar from Russia during 1951, the government has reverted to its monopoly policy.

News of THOSE IN UNIFORM

BATTLE CREEK, Mich.—Pfc. William Akerley, 201 North 16th street, Escanaba, Mich., arrived by air evacuation from California at Percy Jones Army Hospital December 31.

He will be treated for wounds received while serving with the 7th Division in Korea.

Patients are arriving at Percy Jones by air evacuation at the rate of 30 a day. Col. Martin E. Griffin, Percy Jones commander, heart condition of Mack Norton, which was described as "dangerous" if he is exposed to the rigors of winter weather and a trip to Escanaba.

Judge Jackson said that counsel for Mack Norton had tentatively agreed to the hearing starting Jan. 29, the last week of the January term of Delta county circuit court. The court said that it believes one week is not sufficient to complete the hearing. Under the circumstances the case was continued to the April term.

John P. Norton died July 12, 1950, and except for minor bequests to his two brothers and nephew, willed his estate to the Escanaba board of education to establish a scholarship fund for Escanaba high school graduates.

Mack L. Norton and Charles Norton, brothers of John P. Norton, were bequeathed $10,000 and $5,000 respectively, and a nephew, Thomas Norton of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., was willed the sum of $5,000.

They are contesting the validity of the John P. Norton will, charging improper execution of the will, mental incompetency, and undue influence and fraud.

The Norton estate includes the Escanaba Daily Press, stock in Delta Broadcasting company which operates radio station WDBC, Old Orchard farm, and other properties.

Four Dartball Meets Planned

Tournaments To Be Held In Spring

The Kiwanis recreation center will be the scene of four dartball tournaments next spring, Jerome Deloria said today.

They will be the Upper Peninsula, Delta county, Escanaba City league and separate tournament for the league's women, industrial and civic groups. Dates will be announced later.

Teams wishing information may call the center, phone 666. Trophies valued at $200 will be on display at the center soon.

Now that the holiday season is over with, teams in the City league would like to schedule games with outside teams. Teams wishing to schedule games with City league teams may write to the Kiwanis Recreation center, 1325 Sheridan road, Escanaba, or call the center after 2 p. m.

estimates the 1,600 bed hospital will be filled to capacity by February.

Percy Jones is now the Army's center for treatment of frostbite casualties from Korea. General and orthopedic surgery cases and amputees are also to be treated.

Recently reopened, the hospital is one of the nation's finest and largest military hospitals. A wide range of occupational therapy and recreational facilities are offered.

$30,000 Injury Trial Scheduled

Red Owl Store Is Named Defendant

Judge Glenn W. Jackson in the opening session of Delta county circuit court today scheduled a $30,000 personal injury suit against the Red Owl Stores, Inc., for hearing next week.

The plaintiff is Miss Annie T. Kelly of 754 Lake Shore Drive. It is alleged that while in the Red Owl Store at Escanaba she fell on the slippery floor and injured her back. The case will be heard by the court.

In a review of the circuit court calendar this morning, the following cases were dismissed, passed, continued, or slated for hearing:

Appeals Denied
Gerald Robitaille, 29, formerly of 213 Stephenson avenue, now in military service, case disposed of on motion of the respondent. Robitaille had appealed to circuit court from justice court.

Raymond G. Kurth, 20, Escanaba Rt. 1, appeal from justice court on a reckless driving charge, to be sentenced following a plea of guilty entered in the October term.

Remanded to justice court were the appeals of Jerome DeBacker of Escanaba, game law violation; and Robert Leuscher, Escanaba, reckless driving.

Berthel T. Hansen, Lathrop, appeal from a conviction for a liquor law violation, continued by consent.

Dean Shepley and Harry W. Fitzgerald, Tenary Rt. 1, passed until they are present for arraignment on a charge of burglary in the night time.

Guilty Plea Heard
George Ruelau, Manistique, pleaded guilty to resisting an officer and disorderly conduct, and is awaiting sentence.

Scheduled for jury trial toward the end of the term after being passed this morning is the case of Behnir Kyril vs. Lawrence C. Girard, and the Escanaba Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Hearing on motion is scheduled in the case of Delbert A. Lorensen vs. City of Escanaba.

Listed for jury trial is the case of Fred Menard vs. Andrew Eckman. This case was transferred from the non-jury to the jury calendar.

Snares Deer; Lands In Jail

Arnold Resident Gets 90 Days

The first case of deer snaring in the Escanaba area in many years was reported today by the conservation department.

Jack Chriske, district supervisor, said that Orville Guertin, 48, of Arnold was found guilty of snaring deer when arraigned Saturday in Justice Norman Hocking's court in Gwinn.

He was sentenced to 90 days in the Marquette county jail in lieu of $100 fine and costs of $7.40. His deer hunting license also was suspended.

Chriske said that Officer Frank Marshall of Gwinn had spotted three snares and Saturday morning, while watching them, saw Guertin approach a 200-pound buck caught in one of them.

"My White Cross Plan

pays up to $15 for 100 PER DAY DAYS

plus $5 to $150 For My Surgeon"

Based on past records, 48,736 persons will be rushed to hospitals today. This year 1 out of 9 persons in the U.S. will be hospitalized. That means 1 person out of your family or your neighbor's is due to become a hospital case this year or next. And 60% of those cases will require surgery. More than 35,000,000 smart persons have already taken out some form of hospital plan.

Rates Never Raised

Because the WHITE CROSS PLAN accepts only selected risks, we have never put through any general rate raise on persons enrolled, and we do not expect to. You keep the rate you start with, even if you start at the 75c child's rate; it does not increase when you become an adult as long as you stay on your original policy.

We Pay Your Hospital, Your Doctor or YOU!

It's "your money" and subject to your orders. You just tell us where to send your check.

There is only one WHITE CROSS PLAN. It is issued by the Bankers Life & Casualty Co., an old line legal reserve, stock life insurance company with assets of over $14,000,000.

COMPARE!

See how long experience serving more than 3,000,000 persons enables this company to offer such liberal benefits as these:

$ Pays hospital room and meals up to $15 per day, up to 100 hospital days per year, per person.

and for no extra charge:

$ Pays Surgeon's fees from $5.00 to $150.00 for operations in home, hospital or doctor's office.

$ Pays for X-Rays, medicines, treatments (as specified) given in hospital, even though not bed patient.

$ Pays for any Surgeon and any Hospital.

"PAYCHECK INSURANCE"

Now available to farmers and others whose income depends mainly on themselves.

Schedule Drive For Polio Fund

Delta Campaign Will Start January 15

The annual March of Dimes drive to provide funds for the battle against infantile paralysis will be held in Delta county from Jan. 15 to 31, it was announced today by J. L. Heirman, 1951 campaign chairman for the Delta county chapter of the infantile paralysis committee.

Organization of the drive is being completed and it is hoped the public response will be generous, Heirman said.

Appeal letters will be mailed to residents of Gladstone, Escanaba and the townships. Coin collectors will be placed in business places and public buildings, and coin collections will be made through the schools with the cooperation of the teachers and school officials.

Leslie W. Olson of Escanaba is chairman of the Infantile Paralysis committee; John Lemmer is vice chairman; Earle B. Harris, treasurer; Allen Mathison, secretary; J. L. Heirman, campaign; Ed Niederauer, industrial; M. H. Nyquist, township chairman; Hagle Quarnstrom, township schools; Clint Dunathan, Escanaba city; and Wallace Cameron, Gladstone city.

The funds raised in the "fight polio" campaign are used to help finance the local program for polio cases, and to assist in financing the national program of research and treatment.

Germfask

Sgt. John Lustila returned to Chanute Field air base after spending a fifteen day furlough at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Lustila. He was accompanied by Sgt. Charles Atterbury of Missouri who is stationed at the same base and had spent the past week visiting at the former's home.

Jack Washell who has been attending school in Milwaukee is visiting at his home here.

Miss Shirley Jean Lawrence left last week for Newberry where she is employed.

Mrs. George Leimantine and children of Mass, Mich., are visiting relatives in town.

Misses Bernice Losey and Claudene Duncan of Escanaba spent the holiday weekend at the home of their parents.

A group of women met at the home of Mrs. Harold Lustila on Wednesday afternoon to work on the United Nations Home Extension club.

Mrs. Maxine Heath and daughter Jacquelyn have moved to Manistique for the winter months.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Carson returned Sunday from Winchester, Ind., and Jackson, Mich., where they spent the holidays visiting relatives and friends.

Ovid Swisher returned Friday from Petoskey where he has been a surgical patient at the Little Traverse hospital.

Auxiliary Meeting

A business meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Edward James Doran Post No. 8962 was held on January 4 at the Germfask community building. It was attended by the following: Mrs. James Burns, Mrs. Beryl Shirk, Mrs. Charles Cornell, Mrs. Robert Jack, Mrs. Wilbert Belongue, Mrs. Ann Skarritt, Miss Agnes McLaren, Mrs. Clarence Nelson, Mrs. Edward Decker and Mrs. Ovid Swisher. Lunch was served by hostess, Mrs. Wilbert Belongue.

Report Iron Ore Tonnage From Mines to Escanaba

Shipments of iron ore by the Chicago & North Western Ry. Co., from its loading docks at Escanaba, Mich., during the 1950 iron ore shipping season amounted to 5,007,220 gross tons. This is an increase of 1,191,112 gross tons over the 3,816,108 gross tons shipped through the C. & N. W. Ry. Co. loading docks at Escanaba in the 1949 shipping season. The 1948 tonnage amounted to 4,760,529 gross tons and in 1947 a total of 4,139,338 gross tons went forward from these docks.

The Chicago & North Western Ry. Co., and the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific Ry. Co., cooperate in an iron ore traffic agreement with the C. M. St. P. & P. hauling from the Menominee range and the C. & N. W. operating from both the Marquette and Menominee ranges. The port of Escanaba, Mich., the only iron ore shipping port on Lake Michigan, regularly serves the Menominee range and also receives ore from the Marquette range, both of them Michigan districts. This year the port of Escanaba received regular shipments from the Gogebic range. This is the first season of such regular shipments. Though in two or three previous instances, small shipments were made early in the spring before navigation in Lake Superior was opened, this year a steady flow of ore was maintained from the Gogebic range over the C. & N. W. to Escanaba by Ogish, Norton & Co., Republic Steel Corp., Pickands Mather & Co., and Oliver Iron Mining Co. It is expected that these shipments will continue during the 1951 season.

During the month of December, 1950, the Escanaba docks shipped a total of 126,532 tons of ore, which was the largest tonnage ever handled at Escanaba in December of any year. This was an even more conspicuous feat when considering that shipping conditions were very unfavorable during December and this entire tonnage was frozen over. A large winter repair program is already underway on the two C. & N. W. ore docks at Escanaba, No. 5 and 6. These docks are both wooden and require extensive repairs each winter. It is expected that the number of men in the repair crews will reach 140 during the current winter.

Below are the shipments of iron ore by mines to the Chicago & North Western docks at Escanaba, Mich., during the iron ore shipping season of 1950. Figures of all-rail shipments from the Marquette and Menominee ranges are not included in the table, but will be available at a later date.

Three Hurt In Car Collision

Husband And Wife Are Hospitalized

Three persons were injured as a result of an automobile accident Saturday evening at seven o'clock on highway US-2-41 a half mile south of Gladstone.

The accident occurred when cars driven by Henry VanMill, Rte. 1, Gladstone, and Joe E. Casey, Wells, collided. Casey was ticketed by state police for driving on the wrong side of the road.

Van Mill sustained a shattered right knee cap and his wife, Capitola, sustained lacerations to the head and body bruises. Both were taken to St. Francis hospital in Escanaba.

Casey sustained a severe bruise on the forehead and a slight head concussion. He was treated at the hospital but was released Saturday night.

Local Hospital Not Approved

College Of Surgeons Omits St. Francis

St. Francis hospital of Escanaba is not included on the list of hospitals approved by the American College of Surgeons announced today.

Among 3,290 hospitals in the United States, Canada and a few other countries that were approved were: St. Joseph's of Hancock, Ishpeming hospital, Morgan Heights Sanatorium, St. Luke's and St. Mary's of Marquette, St. Joseph's of Menominee, Pinecrest Sanatorium of Powers and Chippewa County War Memorial hospital in Sault Ste. Marie.

The standards for hospitals upon which approval is based include the following fundamentals principles:

1. Modern physical plant, assuring the patient safety, comfort and efficient care.
2. Clearly defined organization, duties, responsibilities, and relations.
3. Carefully selected governing board with complete and supreme authority.
4. Competent chief executive officer or administrator, well trained in all phases of hospital administration, with authority and responsibility to interpret and carry out the policies of the hospital as authorized by the governing board.

5. Adequate and efficient personnel, properly organized and competently supervised.

6. Organized medical staff of ethical, competent physicians and surgeons.

7. Adequate diagnostic and therapeutic facilities under competent medical supervision.

8. Accurate, complete medical records, readily accessible for research and follow-up.

9. Regular group conferences of board.

10. A humanitarian spirit—the primary consideration being the best care of the patient.

THIN AIR

Because of the thinner air, a longer run is required for an airplane taking off from fields where altitudes are very high above sea level.

HUSBANDS TAKE NOTE REDUCES WITH RENNEL

"I have used Rennei Concentrate for several months and have lost over 40 lbs. Before taking Rennei I weighed over 180 lbs. and now I weigh 138," writes Mrs. Ervin Cook, R. 2, Sterling, Mich. "I feel wonderful and can wear dresses that I thought I would have to discard."

Thousands of others have overcome the social and physical discomfort of being overweight with this effective home recipe. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your drugist and ask for four ounces of liquid Rennei Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoons twice a day. That's all there is to it. No diets to complicate your meal planning. No expensive vitamins to fortify your system from weakness while going without food for you can eat normally. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose pounds of bulky fat and help regain slender, more youthful curves—if reducible excess fat doesn't seem to disappear almost like magic just return the empty bottle to the manufacturer for your money back. Insist on and be sure to get genuine Rennei.

We Have Made Little Headway In Fight Against Minor Delinquency

THE report from the sheriff's department that fewer prisoners were confined in the county jail in 1950 than in the previous year should not be interpreted as an indication that our society is winning a war against crime. On the contrary the records of law enforcement officers indicate that crime among youth is increasing.

The Escanaba police department is at present conducting an investigation in a number of petty crimes in which no less than 12 youngsters, all under the age of 17, have already been implicated in varying degrees. Some of the youngsters involved have been in trouble with the law many times in the past. But most of the youths involved in these cases are first-offenders. That is discouraging because the police records indicate that among every group of first offenders, there are some who will be repeaters.

The problem of handling crime by juveniles is a difficult one. Some law enforcement officials regard it as almost hopeless unless there is vigilance and co-operation by parents. The minor cannot be held in jail and in Delta county, he cannot be confined at all because the county has no approved detention home. He can legally be committed to a reform institution but these institutions are so overcrowded that only the most incorrigible youngsters are admitted. And those cases generally are beyond redemption.

We have not licked the problem of juvenile delinquency, which is a fundamental phase of crime. Today's juvenile delinquent is tomorrow's criminal, only he's simply getting a head start on those who acquire anti-social tendencies after reaching maturity.

tion but these institutions are so overcrowded that only the most incorrigible youngsters are admitted. And those cases generally are beyond redemption.

John L. Lewis Behavior Pattern Shows Again

JOHN L. LEWIS, the professional non-conformist, already is acting like a man who has no intention of cooperating with the government in the current emergency.

He has signified refusal to recognize the authority of the Wage Stabilization board, and he sent an underling to a meeting of top labor and government people in Washington.

Lewis, who ordered four coal strikes in 1943, a critical war year, clearly would not hesitate to interrupt defense activity in another crisis.

The United Mine Workers' contract does not expire until April 1, 1951. That gives President Truman and his key labor advisers about three months in which to prepare to deal with Lewis this time. They should be ready for any eventuality and should be equipped to cope swiftly with any serious interference with the flow of vital fuel to defense industries.

STREAMERS IN THE SKY

On a still, starlit night in January when the red mark in the thermometer is well below freezing, the gods of the northland often stage an awesome fireworks spectacle. Ten thousand years ago ancient man probably stood before his cave and fearfully watched long, flame-like streamers shoot from the horizon to the zenith. Eskimos, living where the aurora borealis is most brilliant, have long believed the winter pageant to be the dancing souls of their ancestors. In the temperate zone the pageant frequently begins with an ominous red glow along the northern horizon.

Then the red changes to a gigantic curtain of greenish-yellow hue, extending high into the sky. Sometimes it appears as if fold after fold of the gargantuan curtain were being unrolled, a prologue to the action ahead. In a few minutes gigantic lances and swords begin to fence against each other. The whole northern half of the sky is filling with flashing, changing flames. They begin in bursts from the horizon and hurl themselves towards the stars. The color spectacle is breath-taking in a major display: deep reds, many shades of blue, purples, steel-greys, silver, pink and green. There are many forms: arcs, slender streaks, coronas, both horizontal and vertical bands.

Scientists do not understand the precise causes and exact nature of the spectacular display. Possibly streams of electricity charged electrons and protons are shot from the sun; the particles may be pulled toward the north and south magnetic poles of earth. They may collide with atmospheric particles of nitrogen and oxygen gases in the ionosphere and generate light-giving energy states. The glow sometimes extends 600 miles above the earth's surface. On a cold night when dry snow crunches and squeaks underfoot and the heaven is a canvas of changing colors, man catches a glimpse of the illimitable stellar spaces of the universe and has a fleeting moment when he feels a bond with a Great Spirit that keeps a billion stars and unknown planets in their courses.—By Haydn Pearson.

Questions and Answers

Q—Where is the home of the Gullah Negroes?

A—St. Helena Island, near Beaufort, S. C., is populated almost entirely by Gullah Negroes. The Gullah Negro is of pure African stock than any other Negro group in America and may be of entirely different stock.

Q—How did Houston, Tex., attain importance as a seaport?

A—Houston has attained major importance as a seaport through the conversion of Buffalo Bayou into a 50-mile long canal, which can accommodate ocean shipping.

This Is The Measure Of Our War Effort

WINSTON CHURCHILL once had this to say on the waging of war: "War is made with steel and steel is made from coal. . . Coal is the foundation and, to a very large extent, the measure of our whole war effort."

That indicates the extreme importance of our coal industry in a time such as the present, when rearmament on a great scale is swiftly getting under way. It takes 220 tons of coal to make a modern tank; six pounds for every pound of smokeless powder; five pounds for a single rifle, and two pounds to make a pound of TNT. So it goes, down the long list of weapons.

Can America's coal industry handle the new emergency demand, even as it continues to meet our normal, peaceful needs? The answer to that, according to every coal expert within and without the industry, is an unqualified Yes. During the last war, our coal production exceeded 600,000,000 tons a year. In a single week of 1950 the industry has produced as much as 13,000,000 tons, a rate of 650,000,000 tons per year.

The chairman of the Coal Defense committee summed the situation up in these words: "A free coal industry fueled the nation in two world wars without government subsidy or other government aid. The coal industry can do so again if the need arises. The coal mines, the very backbone of our nation's productive strength, can supply all the coal our nation may need."

Bring In The Best Brains In America

ROBERT KAZMAYER, the well known lecturer and writer on national and international affairs, recently said: "While there is yet time the U. S. public ought to clamor for an equivalent of the Hoover commission to study U. S. foreign situation, to bring the best brains of the nation into one group, Hoover, Baruch, MacArthur, Eisenhower, Taft, six or eight men, to pool their knowledge and experience, decide on what U. S. must do, what it can do, limits beyond which it probably can't go, what it will take to get out of this drifting, improvising to meet emergencies, to get over onto offensive, with Russia on defensive."

In more or less normal, peaceful times, it is all very well for the country to be run on the old political basis. But when we are faced with the awful question of actual survival, the party label a man wears is as unimportant as the color of his tie. All that matters is whether he has the intelligence and experience to help save his country and its freedoms during one of the most crucial periods history has known.

It is evident to everyone that Russia has been gradually attaining her world objectives—which is tantamount to saying that she is winning a war, whether it be hot or cold—with almost no expenditure of her own manpower and resources.

The problems we face are incredibly difficult. Yet some sort of a solution to all the unanswered questions must be found—and Mr. Kazmayer's suggestion is a fine one. A commission of the best brains we have, regardless of politics or other such minor considerations, was never more sorely needed by our beleaguered country.

Lawmakers

It's a time to watch the statehouse where they come from far and near, so elected representatives our legal course may steer. It's a time for all to listen to the oratory boom—take your choice of optimism or the voice of certain doom. It's a time for lots of politics as members take their seats, and there's fun and work aplenty when the legislature meets.

It's the time to hear the city fellow view with much alarm, all the things the state is doing for the people on the farm. It's the time the farmer warns against a city slicker's tricks, as he vows his fond allegiance to his neighbors in the sticks. It's the time they crowd the lobby of each over-taxed hotel, and the lobbyists are busy with a bill of goods to sell.

It's the time for all to snicker at the guy who hems and haws, as he wonders how to vote on all the tax-assessing laws. It's the time for nerves to jangle and the time of bitter fights, as "the boys" begin to weary of the countless smoke-filled nights. Comes at last the time to say farewell beneath the statehouse dome, but it's then they still must worry over who is welcome home.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — To understand fully the tragic headlines from Korea, it is necessary to know the main strategy being followed in the Pentagon building, plus some of the differences between the joint chiefs of staff and General MacArthur.

One factor is that, whereas the joint chiefs were lax in letting MacArthur spread his troops out over north Manchuria as easy prey to the Chinese last November, they are now leaning over backward to be tough. Some observers believe that if they had kept a tighter checkrein on MacArthur last November, and a looser checkrein on him now, things might be better.

For today he is getting no reinforcements from the United States.

Second factor is that Pentagon leaders decided some time ago that our most practical move in Korea was to retire. While this was not a hard-and-fast decision, it probably explains our current withdrawals.

In brief, our policy is to let MacArthur make a stand with the troops he now has on hand. If he cannot do so, he is to execute a series of orderly withdrawals. This is pretty much the military strategy we are now following.

MacARTHUR PLEADS

Recently, MacArthur asked for four new divisions to hold a line north of Seoul. In fact, he literally burned up the teletype begging for them.

The request was denied—for several reasons. First, there is great disinclination to waste more American lives in what appears to be the bottomless military pit of Asia. Second, more American troops, when available, are needed in Europe. Third, there is a strong feeling that MacArthur has enough troops, even now, to defend South Korea.

According to the estimates of enemy strength cabled to the joint chiefs of staff by MacArthur's own intelligence, the Chinese are not attacking in anywhere near the force indicated by the press communiques issued in Tokyo.

Furthermore, we have complete superiority in the air, a superior firepower of 10 to one, and a mobility of 100 to one. The latter means that, when attacked on one part of the front, we have far greater means of rushing troops to reinforce that front.

Intelligence estimates cabled Washington by MacArthur's own intelligence indicate that the Chinese are slightly superior in numbers, but do not have the three-to-one superiority generally considered necessary for a successful offensive.

UNCENSORED EUROPEAN NEWS

It isn't always pleasant to face these facts, but our United Nations allies in Europe are probably getting a less censored and more unvarnished picture of the Korean military situation than we are. And the truth is not helping us. Even in Turkey, for instance, there has been harsh criticism of MacArthur, and the publication "Turk" recently featured the following:

"General MacArthur declared it was not possible to foresee the Chinese offensive because his airplanes were not allowed to make air reconnaissance over Manchuria. But the Chinese authorities repeatedly announced they would not let the American forces camp on the Manchurian frontiers. Therefore, there is no justification for the statement the U. N. forces were surprised."

"Also, the numerical superiority of the Chinese army was not such an important factor as some people stress. It did not exceed 250,000 soldiers, while the U. N. forces reached 150,000. Moreover, the U. N. enjoyed a highly superior air force, and thus headquarters was able to provide for a repulsion of such an offensive."

Actual fact is that the Turkish appraisal is substantiated by the figures which Gen. Charles Willoughby, MacArthur's chief of intelligence, has cabled Washington—namely, that during the disastrous 120-mile retreat from North Korea the Chinese did not attack in anywhere near the overwhelming numbers the press communiques indicated.

Take My Word For It . . . Frank Colby

WHAT'S THE ORIGIN?

Q. How did we get the word godsend?—E. B.

A. Godsend originally was the Old English God's send, meaning, "God's message, or service." It changed to God's send by false association with the verb send. Still later the two words joined, and the "g" became a lower-case letter, giving us the modern word godsend, "something unexpected but very welcome, as if sent by God."

Q. We keep reading about "rice paddies." Why not "rice fields"?—Mrs. A. W.

A. In the Gulf rice-growing states, the only term used is "rice fields." But in the Far East, English-speaking persons use the term "rice paddy." However, it is erroneous and redundant, for paddy does not mean "field." It means "rice," especially rice in the husk, whether uncut or harvested. Paddy is from the Malay padi, "rice."

Q. Why do we speak of eating "humble pie"?—E. B.

A. The original expression was "eat humble pie." A humble pie was one made of the nibles of a deer or other animal, i. e., such entrails as the heart, liver, etc. When a deer, for example, was killed for the table, the choice meat was served to the master and his family. The nibles were eaten by the servants and other menials.

Numble pie became unble pie, and finally humble pie. Today, to eat humble pie, is to humble or debase oneself.

Q. We'd like to know exactly what is meant by "one jot or tittle."—Mrs. E. B.

A. In a figurative sense, both jot and tittle designate the smallest particle, as in Matthew 18: "Till heaven and earth pass, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass from the law, till all be fulfilled."

United Nations Is Moving Into Its Permanent Home in New York

By ADELAIDE KERR
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK—The United Nations is moving into its new, permanent home in the midst of some of the stormiest political weather it has ever endured.

While delegations are wrestling with the Korean problem, a fleet of movers and trucks is completing the move from Lake Success, L. I., to the U. N.'s 17-acre plot in midtown Manhattan. The greater part of 3,000 secretariat workers, including Trygve Lie, is taking quarters in the 39-story, glass-walled, office skyscraper overlooking East River. The building is one of three now under construction.

Enough workers remain at Lake Success to handle the work entailed by the General Assembly. A few hundred will remain at the old Long Island headquarters until June. By then the second new building here, for meetings of the Security Council, Trusteeship Council and Assembly Committees is to be completed.

U. N.'s new home has been one of the most complicated housing, furnishing and housekeeping jobs of all time. It had to suit 60 member nations with tastes as far apart as the poles. So U. N. chose modern architecture. People from the tropics and from frigid zones had to work in it. So the secretariat building has a heating and cooling system adjustable in each office by the twist of a knob. Its furnishings had to be functional and comfortable to cut down fatigue. They had to wear long, be easy to maintain and keep clean—to cut down costs. They had to be bought in many different countries and welded into a whole that did not clash.

U. N. Unity Is the Keynote
"All these things were kept in mind when furnishings were chosen," says Abel Sorensen, head of interior design of the U. N. project.

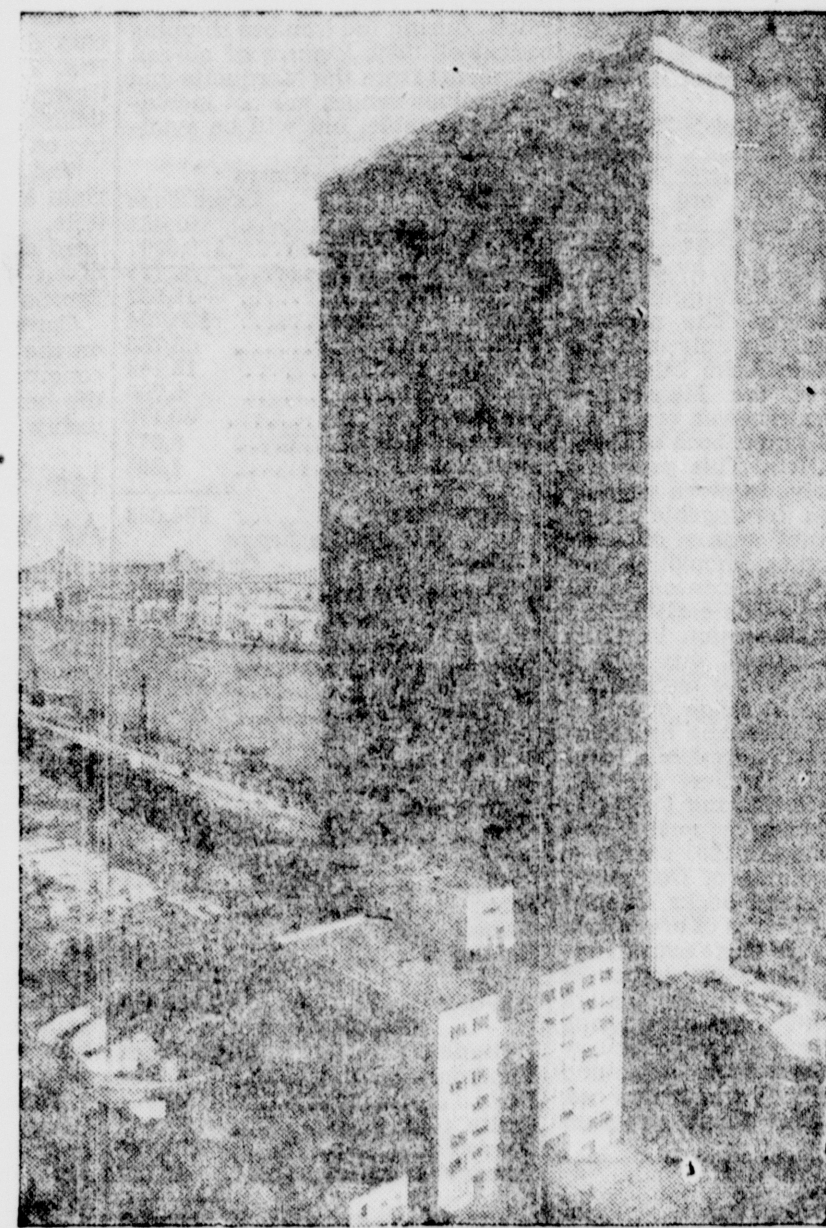

Lots of U. N.'s chairs are covered with leather to resist burns. Window draperies in bigwig offices are close-woven wool that looks sturdy enough to last for decades. Carpets are generally chenille. Offices of top officials have television sets, so that they can keep track of what goes on in a council room without leaving their desks. The whole thing has been done in cheerful color and in modern decor. Any housekeeper would rejoice in the smooth surfaces that have no dust-catcher curlicues.

When you visit U. N.'s new home, you will see a building that looks like a book standing on end, built of steel, marble, aluminum and glass. Both main walls are faced with a solid phalanx of green glass windows. They don't look green from inside, though; they look like usual windowpane. But by some scientific quirk, if you raise one and look out, the outside world looks rose colored. From one side you see the East River, from the other Manhattan's skyscrapers, their lights glowing like a spangled jewelbox on a winter afternoon.

Upstairs, the secretariat building's glass walls are lined with offices. Many are small, in order to spread the window space as far as it will go. Even so, there are not enough windows to go around. So many secretaries, stenographers, etc., work in inside rooms by electric light.

Penthouse for Trygve Lie

In the upper part of the building is the secretary general's five-room suite—office, meeting room, private living room, bedroom, kitchen and bath. The office is paneled in Norwegian pine, carpeted in American brown chenille and hung with draperies of soft blue Swedish wool. One wall of the meeting room is lined with cork, so that maps and charts can be pinned on it. Another slides up to reveal the sitting room. The two rooms can be thrown together any time the secretary general wants to entertain at lunch or dinner. Dull-finished aluminum lighting fixtures throw the light ceilingward.

WORLD CAPITOL—The new U. N. headquarters

The suites of the eight assistant secretaries general are smaller, but equally modern. When the entire U. N. headquarters is finished the secretariat skyscraper will be linked to the other two main buildings—the meeting hall area and the General Assembly Hall. These two are low widespread buildings clustered near the base of the skyscraper. Underground will be a 1,500-car garage and to one side will stand the library, converted from a building which U. N. used for operating offices while constructing the new headquarters. Green turf, flowers, trees, fountains and parkways will fill the rest of the site that once held slaughterhouses. Above them will fly the flags of the United Nations.

"Copy Desk" for Committees

The meeting hall building will have some of the world's biggest and most up-to-date committee rooms. Seventy foot tables—some shaped like a giant horseshoe and some like a huge "C"—are now being made to order to seat the 60 nation delegations. On them will stand U. N.'s simultaneous translating devices. While a speech is being made, a delegate can put on his headphones, press the button he chooses and get a simultaneous digest of it in English, French, Spanish, Chinese or Russian.

The committee rooms will be paneled in mahogany, walnut or teakwood and their furniture will be of the same wood. They will be carpeted in blue, brown or green, and their big picture windows will have harmonious draperies that take 500 square yards of material. At one end will rise the balcony to seat the public and the press.

The same building will hold the delegates' lounges. The main one will be huge—divided into three sections. The center section, for recreation will be furnished in big sofas of brown, beige and ivory leather from South America and modern United States chairs upholstered in grey and brilliant orange wool, grouped around small birch tables. In a writing room at one end will be Czechoslovakian chairs and Finnish desks of beech and birch. A reading room at the other end will be furnished with mahogany tables and chairs upholstered in Danish blue wool.

Up on the roof will be the cafeteria for the secretariat and the restaurant for the delegates, rimmed by a wide terrace overlooking the East River.

The General Assembly building, which is expected to be finished by the summer of 1952 will be a big domed structure, providing seats for delegations, press and 1,000 spectators. It will have the latest electronic equipment and modern lighting. And 1,000 square yards of carpet will cover its floor.

CAUGHT ON THE ICE—Out of Garden comes the story of the men who rescued a young buck deer from the ice of Big Bay de Noc.

Commercial fishermen, seeing the animal on the ice at a distance, at first believed it to be a dog. Investigation revealed that it was a deer, exhausted by its efforts to stand on the slippery ice.

The fishermen tied its legs, wrapped a blanket about its body, and took it to shore on a truck. There it was given food and warmth and recovered.

Conservation Officer Hugh Fisher of Garden was notified and he trucked it off to a game refuge where it was released. The case of the exhausted deer is no more unfortunate, however, than that of many other creatures of the wild who are contending against one of nature's severest winters.

BLOW A COLD NOTE — Cold weather makes life difficult for bands as well as deer, particularly when a band is asked to play outdoors in wintertime.

Now the story can be told of the Escanaba high school band's appearance in an early-winter parade on Ludington street—and the adoption of policies concerning appearances of the band in the future. You see, the band members suffered from the cold and Director Robert S. Meyer was ill for several days.

The Escanaba board of education adopted policies concerning public appearances of the band. "Cold weather is hard on our expensive instruments and on the members of the band," it is pointed out in stipulating that outdoor appearances of the band shall not be scheduled between Nov. 1 and April 1.

THE HORN TOOTERS—Winter or summer, cold or hot, we always have the automobile horn tooters with us.

Their strident efforts are noted particularly at band concerts at Ludington Park in summertime, when folks sit in their cars and toot horns as a form of applause. This may not be too bad, but during parades the motorists also toot their horns—and few people hear the band or bands in the parade.

Escanaba has two fine bands, the Municipal band directed by Charles Johnson, and the EHS band directed by Mr. Meyer. Incessant tooting of auto horns when the bands appear is a distraction rather than a compliment.

WHAT YOU SEE—People have belief in what they see. This is rightfully so, since all of us place confidence in our own observations.

Mrs. Nancy Newhouse of Bay View at 11 o'clock the night of Jan. 5 saw a light in the sky coming toward her house from across the ice of Little Bay de Noc. The light moved swiftly and passed over the house within a few short seconds, heading northwestward.

"I don't know what it was," she reported. "I can only describe it as a light with a curved trailing tail of light behind it. It may have been a shooting star—but this was much larger and looked not at all like the shooting stars I have seen."

What was it? Mrs. Newhouse doesn't know. But she believes her observation should be reported—especially in these times. Others may have noted the speeding object and, as she believes possible, be able to better identify it.

FLYING SAUCERS — Mrs. Newhouse does not suggest that what she saw was a "flying saucer" although in some respects her report describes a similar object observed last winter.

Little has been heard of the "flying saucer" in the past few months, although some authorities in the field of aviation now discount that such circular flying machines do or ever did exist. It was popular for a time to assert that "flying saucers" did exist—and these assertions also came from experts in the field of aviation.

Throughout the "flying saucer" period of the past couple years the U. S. government authorities have patiently and consistently disclaimed that flying discs exist or that this country is experimenting with such objects.

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

Escanaba—Harry A. Watkins, chief clerk in the state highway office here the past three years, has been promoted to the position of chief clerk of the planning division of the highway department at Lansing.

Escanaba—The Escanaba Commerce association at its first 1941 meeting last night elected Atty. Robert E. LeMire secretary of the organization. Bruce Brackett was named vice president of the group, of which John Boyle is president.

Manistique—Miss Elizabeth Shinar has returned to Muskegon Heights, where she is teaching, following a visit at her home here.

Gladstone—Dedication of a new ski tow and an exhibition of controlled skiing by Joe Maurin featured the snow show at the Gladstone sports park Sunday. William L. Marble, a trustee of the ski club, presided at the dedication.

20 YEARS AGO

Escanaba — An Escanaba department store was advertising sheets for 79 cents, men's suits for $19.75, .22 calibre rifles for $3.98, skis for $2.25, and men's work shoes for $1.79.

Manistique—William E. Crowe, prominent Manistique banker, was elected president of the Chamber of Commerce last night. He succeeds Frank Lied, who has resigned. Other officers elected were David Yalomstein, vice president; Alex Creighton, treasurer; and W. B. Thomas, secretary.

Gladstone—Otto Nelson was elected president of the board of trustees of the First Lutheran church Monday. C. W. Eliquist was re-elected secretary, and Charles Holm, treasurer.

No Food Shortage In United States

By JACK R. RYAN

NEW YORK—(AP)—One thing Americans apparently don't have to worry about in the uncertain months ahead is a food shortage. Here's how the situation stacks up as the new year begins:

Crops in 1950 were the third largest on record, bigger than the average for the past eight years—"the most productive period in American agriculture."

And farmers with their new machinery, improved fertilizers and insecticides and greater skill in agriculture methods and animal breeding, seem well able to meet the government's call for the largest production in history for 1951.

Waste Reduced
Food manufacturers have modernized their plants and equipment since the last war, developed many new packaging methods to reduce spoilage and waste, stepped up their food research, found short cuts in distribution.

The nation's cold storage stocks of perishable foods like meat, cheese, eggs, poultry, fish products, fruits and vegetables are at a record high—5,200,000,000 pounds as of Dec. 1, compared with 4,600,000,000 the year before. Surplus stocks of wheat, corn, dry beans and other commodities also are large, although increased military needs have been trimming them down somewhat.

Nobody, of course, can foresee to what extent this whole promising picture might be changed by a spreading war which could drain away our farm manpower, disrupt food distribution channels, and sharply increase the food needs of our allies.

Manpower Problem Ahead
However, some of the food industry's problems likely to accompany the nation's growing defense mobilization already are beginning to emerge.

Manpower may be one. The labor expert of the National Canners association, R. B. Heiney, said in Chicago recently that about 2,500,000 women not now in the country's labor force will have to be recruited in the coming year, and about 400,000 workers will have to be brought into the U. S. from other nations for next year's harvest.

Possible shortages of tinplate for cans and bottle tops, paper for packaging, railroad cars for shipping foods, and eventually, even tightening supplies of farm machinery and fertilizers, are other uncertainties.

Prices, as any housewife knows, ended the year generally higher than a year ago—but still well below the 1948 peaks. War scare buying after the Korean war broke out, and a rush by the food trade to rebuild inventories after months of hand-to-mouth buying, had a lot to do with the rise in the second half of the year.

Prices Going Up
The bureau of labor statistics reported that a special survey of 50 food items in seven key cities showed retail prices up 4.3 per cent between mid-June (before the Korean war) and late November. Since then, according to a major store chain, hundreds of individual grocery items have been marked up a little more by suppliers.

Just what effect the government's call for voluntary price freeze will have on food prices is a matter of considerable controversy as the new year opens.

It seems certain, however, that America's overall food bill will be substantially higher in 1951. Because defense mobilization will boost employment, working hours in some industries will be longer, consumer incomes will be higher, and the increase probably will be only partly offset by higher taxes. And with durable goods made scarcer by shortages of materials—and harder to buy because of stiffer credit controls—people will spend money on foods.

Danish Language Is Made Easy

COPENHAGEN—(AP)—A book on basic Danish is due to be published soon by the Scandinavian Book Club. The author is Knud Mogensen, a Copenhagen author-politician, who has been working on the book for two years to make it possible for all English-speaking people to learn the most necessary Danish words.

The book contains 3,000 Danish words, in three chapters, each of one thousand words. A foreigner can easily get along in Denmark if he masters the first chapter. If he can learn 2,000 words he can carry on a conversation with an average Dane.

Sowing grass seed by hand is a wasteful procedure. Mixing it with sand is a good method where the hand-sowing method must be used on lawns.

Wells

Wells PTA Meeting
WELLS—The Wells Parent-Teacher association held a business meeting Wednesday evening. A movie, "The Shortest Way Home" was shown by Lawrence Klug, superintendent of the schools. Lunch was served by Mrs. Tom Kroll, Mrs. Betty Gustafson, Mrs. Clinton Groos and Mrs. Gilbert Pilon. Mrs. Lawrence Klug was named chairman of the membership committee.

Card tables have been purchased for the school and each room was given money to purchase an album of records. Supervision of the new ice skating rink was discussed. The meeting was closed by Mrs. John Cass, temporary president in the absence of Mrs. Jerome Deloria, who is ill.

Club Party
WELLS—The Bay View Economics club held a Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Joseph Groos, Carroll's Corners. A lesson in cake decorating was given by Mrs. Walter Casey and Mrs. Groos. Gifts were exchanged and lunch served during the social. The next meeting will be held Jan. 16 at the home of Mrs. William Olson. A lesson on aluminum etching will be given.

Birthday Party
Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Schwartz gave a birthday party Saturday to honor their sons, Richard and John, who are 7 and 6, respectively. Two birthday cakes in pink and yellow were at either end of the table. Games were followed by the party lunch. Individual favors were presented the guests. At the party were David Carlson, Kristine, Barbara and Suzanne Klug, Darlene Williams, Ronald Glasure and Sandra Gustafson, cousins, Randy Gillespie and Dick Richards, and their brother, Jimmy Schwartz.

Personals
Mrs. Joseph Eagle of Perkins who has been visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. James Williams, was admitted to St. Francis hospital for medical treatment. Joseph H. Nantell is visiting in LaCrosse, Wis., with his daughters, Mrs. Robert McCann and Pamela and Mrs. Ray Engh and children. Harrison White of Neenah, Wis., is visiting here with his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon White, and family. He also will visit with another son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Chester White of Escanaba.

Mr. and Mrs. Addie Boyd and children, Dennis, Sandra and Patti, have returned to Manitowish after a visit with Mrs. Capitola B. Bloom and family of Bay View. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Goodreau and daughter Jean of Bay View visited in Iron River Saturday with an aunt, Mrs. Jack Rondon.

Card Club Meeting
The Jolly Dozen card club met Thursday at the home of Mrs. Ed Perry in Bay View. Mrs. Herman Dahlgren had high score and Mrs. Oscar Sequin and Mrs. Wally Nerbonne were low. A pot luck lunch was served.

COUPLE BUILDS HOME
VICTORIA, B. C.—(AP)—Using tools and materials similar to those employed by early settlers, a young married couple, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Batey, have completed a modern five-room log bungalow. Jack cut trees for about 450 logs.

Husking Pegs Are Still A Business

DES MOINES—(AP)—A Shenandoah firm still manufactures corn husking pegs, although the corn picker has largely replaced husking of corn by hand.

About 40 such items as husking pegs and hooks are turned out by the Ralston Manufacturing company, believed to be one of the few firms now making such equipment. A company spokesman said the firm has seen business in husking pegs hit a volume of $35,000 a year. It has shrunk in recent years to about $2,000 annually. The company also manufactures other items.

"OPERATION REINDEER"
When Eskimo tribes faced starvation as their food sources of walrus and caribou vanished in the late 19th century, a small herd of reindeer was imported from Siberia. Today, reindeer in Alaska number many hundreds of thousands furnishing meat even for export.

Nearly 5,000,000 tons of asphalt are used for roads in the United States annually.

'Life Stories' Program Heard

Rotarians Harrison, Belanger Speak

Harry Belanger, comptroller of the Escanaba Paper company, and C. Harrison, U. S. Forest Service supervisor, today noon at the luncheon meeting of the Escanaba rotary club presented "life story" sketches in an interesting and informal program.

The biographies are a custom of the club in which recent members of the Escanaba Rotary Club are called upon to tell other members about themselves and their work. They were introduced by Charles Folio, chairman of the club's program committee.

Belanger, born in Escanaba, son of a railroad man and one of a large family, told amusing incidents of his early boyhood and described some of the hardships when the family lived in small settlements near Felch. Later he attended Escanaba high school and in 1911 started employment with the Upper Michigan Power & Light company in clerical work.

The same owners organized the Escanaba Paper company and Belanger has been employed with them since in positions of increasing responsibility.

Harrison was born on a cattle ranch in Colorado, graduated from Colorado State College in 1925, and the following year entered the U. S. Forest Service with employment in Colorado, Minnesota, South Dakota, Missouri, Ohio and Michigan.

He came to Escanaba first in 1940 as assistant supervisor, was later transferred to Lower Michigan, and then returned here as supervisor about three years ago.

Republican Critics Of Truman Named On Senate Policy Group

WASHINGTON—(P)—State Republicans today named four outspoken critics of the administration's Far Eastern program to their 11-member policy group.

The four were among the six new senators named to the important policy making body by the Republican conference. Assignments were announced by chairman Millican (R-Colo.) along with choices for the Republican committee on committees, and the senatorial campaign committee.

Named to the Republican policy group were Senators Knowland of California, H. Alexander Smith of New Jersey, Ferguson of Michigan, Brewster of Maine, Thye of Minnesota, and Martin of Pennsylvania.

The first four, in particular, have been outspoken in their criticisms of the administration's policies in the Far East.

Mrs. Paul Provo Dies Here Sunday; Funeral Wednesday

Mrs. Paul (Mathilda) Provo, 87, died at 10:15 p. m., Sunday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Tom Dubord, 1715 North Seventh avenue. She had been suffering from pneumonia since Nov. 4.

Mrs. Provo, a member of St. Thomas church, was born in Windover, Ont., Can., April 26, 1863. She came to Delta County 57 years ago, living in Ford River 15 years before moving here.

She leaves a daughter, Mrs. Dubord; three sons, Joseph, Dona and Ovid Provo of Escanaba; 29 grandchildren, 34 great grandchildren, and a brother, Lambert Franche in Windover, Ont.

Funeral services will be held in St. Thomas the Apostle church at 9 a. m., Wednesday and burial will be made in Holy Cross cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home beginning at 2 p. m., Tuesday. The rosary will be recited at 8 Tuesday evening.

Relative Of Local Family Slain By California Killer

Dewey of Elmhurst, Ill., and San Diego, Calif., Robert's mother was Catherine M. Jaeger daughter of the late Nicholas Jaeger of Escanaba.

Robert H. Dewey was born Feb. 10, 1919 in Elmhurst where his family have made their home for thirty years. Bob attended Elmhurst college during the armored division joining his junior year. He served as captain in the Battle of the Bulge where he was seriously wounded. During his hospitalization in England his mother died.

Salesman In Seattle Bob leaves many friends in Escanaba. During his youth he spent his summers on his grandparents farm on M-35.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dewey have resided in Seattle for the last four years. Robert was an oil salesman there. He was returning from a visit with his father in San Diego. Bob was not inclined to let the other fellow walk. This proved his undoing when he picked up the ex-convict, William Cole, the killer.

Bob's body was found alongside the roadway in the desert country. He had been shot through the head. The killer drove away in Bob's Buick car.

Aunts, Uncles Here

Robert is survived by his widow, Helen, a Rockford, Ill., girl, his father, Fred H. Dewey, his sisters Mrs. Robert Bowman of Pittsfield, Pa., and Georgia Mae, a journalism student at the University of Missouri.

Relatives in Escanaba include two uncles, Frank and Peter Jaeger, and three aunts, Mrs. Jacob Ammel, Mrs. Paul Rademacher and Miss Alice Jaeger.

Robert Fulton's Clermont, the first American steamboat, was launched on the Hudson River between Albany and New York City.

Arrest Of Youths Solves Kalamazoo Coed Murder Case

tion but we may not have the right story yet.

Conversation Overheard Lie detector tests given by Olson and Mattheis at Michigan state police headquarters here yesterday brought out their admissions, Buder said.

Both were arrested Saturday night on a tip of farmer Alfred Davis, who overheard a conversation the youths had when they stopped at his home near Ludington, Mich., on the way home from a hunting trip several weeks ago. Olson was taken into custody just after joining the Marine Corps in Detroit. Mattheis was arrested at Vicksburg.

The last time any of Carolyn's friends saw the Stockbridge coed was when she ate supper the night of the slaying in a restaurant near the dormitory. Employees there remembered she laughed and joked with them.

"It is apparent now," Hoyd reported, "that she went to the show after eating. She was due back in her dormitory at 10:30 p. m. and records show she had never been late.

Girl Accepts Ride

"From what these men say, I am convinced that she was late and accepted their offer of a ride home for that reason."

Hoyd quoted Mattheis as saying the pair started out that night "to hunt for a woman" but couldn't find a pickup in any of several bars they visited. Then they saw Carolyn leaving the theater.

"I told her, 'It's a stormy night, can't we drive you home,'" the police chief quoted Olson as saying. "She said she was late and when we turned onto Portage street, she said we were going the wrong way. I told her to shut up and kept going."

Bath agreed they forced the girl into the back seat and each raped her there while the other drove. They also agreed she was killed between 1 and 1:30 a. m., Buder said.

Trout Asked To Hold Clinic For Soldiers

WASHINGTON—(P)—Paul (Dizzy) Trout, Detroit Tigers pitcher, is one of five major league baseball players invited to conduct a ball-playing clinic for the armed forces in the European theater in February.

The air force also invited Gerry Coleman, New York Yankee second baseman; Elmer V. Valo, Philadelphia Athletic outfielder; Stan Musial, St. Louis Cardinal outfielder; Jim Konstanty, Philadelphia Phillies ace relief pitcher; and seven other baseball and softball non-playing experts.

Truman Says U. S. Will Not Appease Russians

clared America's national security is too deeply involved to allow any withdrawal of help.

Calls For Unity "Our national security," he said, "would be gravely prejudiced if the Soviet Union were to succeed in harnessing to its war machine the resources and the manpower of the free nations on the borders of its empire."

In his report on mobilization efforts, the president said American industry must be made capable of producing 50,000 planes and 35,000 tanks a year. But he said he hoped there would never be any necessity to produce that many.

Much of his address was concerned with the grave international situation and he appealed to the legislators.

"I ask the Congress for unity in these crucial days," the president said the threat "of world conquest" by Russia is "a real threat and the danger is a common danger."

Then he went on to say: "We are preparing for full war-time mobilization, if that should be necessary. And we are continuing to build a strong and growing economy, able to maintain whatever effort may be required for as long as necessary."

Ten-Point Program

Mr. Truman submitted a ten-point legislative program calling for: "First, appropriations for our military build-up.

"Second, extension and revision of the Selective Service Act.

"Third, military and economic aid to help build up the strength of the free world.

"Fourth, revision and extension of the authority to expand production and to stabilize prices, wages, and rents.

"Fifth, improvement of our agricultural laws, to help obtain the kinds of farm products we need for the defense effort.

"Sixth, improvement of our labor laws to help provide stable labor-management relations and to make sure that we have steady production in this emergency.

"Seventh, housing and training of defense workers, and the full use of all our manpower resources.

"Eighth, means for increasing the supply of doctors, nurses, and other trained medical personnel critically needed for the defense effort.

"Ninth, aid to the states to meet the most urgent needs of our elementary and secondary schools.

"Tenth, a major increase in taxes to meet the cost of the defense effort."

Debate Not Gagged

In his appeal for "unity" to a Congress, many of whose members have been sharply critical of administration foreign policy, the president asserted:

"Make no mistake about my meaning. I do not ask, or expect, unanimity. I do not ask for an end to debate. Only by debate can we arrive at decisions which are wise, and which reflect the desires of the American people. We do not have dictatorship in this country, and we will never have it."

"When I request unity, what I am really asking for is a sense of responsibility on the part of every member of this Congress. Let us debate the issues, but let every man among us weigh his words and deeds. There is a sharp difference between harmful criticism and constructive criticism. If we are truly responsible as individuals, I am sure that we will be unified as a government."

Country Comes First He asked everyone to put "our country ahead of our party, and ahead of our own personal interests."

The 50,000-planes-a-year figure used by Mr. Truman was the same goal the late President Roosevelt set in May, 1940, when the nation began going full scale into defensive preparations for a war that hit a year and a half later.

The Aviation Industry association estimated that when the Korean war started the United States was producing only 215 military aircraft a month.

At the peak of plane production—in March, 1944, the United States turned out 9,113 military

Accessories Sparkle Hair

By ALICIA HART
NEA STAFF WRITER

Because there's usually so little time for arranging elaborate coiffures during the holiday whirl, many clever women turn during this busy season to simple versatile hair-dos that can be prettied up with accessories.

Jean de Chant, noted hair stylist, suggests for this purpose a new longer bob that is adaptable to whatever your social calendar may offer.

An easily-kept page boy style, which is sufficiently simple for the most informal occasion, becomes glamorous enough for the most sophisticated affair when fluffed into a loose shining roll that just touches your shoulders.

For additional femininity, de Chant swirls a soft, flat curl down upon the forehead.

This arrangement becomes as pretty as a Christmas tree when you don a dainty cap of rhinestone-studded fishnet which rises high in front to frame your face, and dips its velvet frame low in back to accent the shining sweep of your locks.

For formal evenings, de Chant combs the same basic hair-do into a sleek effect to set off a spray of flowers which he arranges on one side in an attractive a-symmetrical fashion.

For gowns of delicate fabric and feminine style, he recommends a cluster of tiny pastel blossoms. For dresses of heavier material and more dashing cut, flowers a bit bolder in size and color may be used.

This adaptable coiffure may also be pulled back into a chignon arrangement when the occasion and your own mood call for a touch of sophistication.

To achieve this quick transformation, de Chant brushes the page boy roll vigorously from underneath, stroking from the end of the hair inward to the nape of the neck. This backward brushing fluffs the hair and gives it body. Side hair is brought back until the roll falls into a soft, half-moon chignon.

For additional glamor, he chooses a bird-of-paradise evening hat. This round of velveteen, to which graceful, towering aigrettes are attached, is fastened to the back of your head, just above

Delta League Resumes Play

The Delta Bridge league resumed regular weekly sessions Saturday night after the holiday recess with a seven table Howell movement and a nice turnout. Interest and many post-mortems were created by the freak distributions encountered in this contest. Careful and cautious bidding and conservative play using safety measures paid off.

The next regular session will be held Friday, Jan. 12, at the Elks club with registration starting at 8. Newcomers are welcome at all regular sessions. Following this coming session the three session closed club pair championship contest for possession of the Robert L. Parsons trophy will be played, the dates, Jan. 20 and 26 and Feb. 3. The Jan. 26 session will be a regular monthly master point game. Cumulative scores for the three sessions will determine the winners.

Ellenton's Boom Dreams Are Exploded by H-Bomb

By MORGAN FITZ
ELLENTON, S. C. (NEA)—The people in the little South Carolina town along the Savannah River, a little southwest of Augusta, Ga., knew something was up.

Since April, strangers had been turning up, asking about the soil, the crops, the land values. Farmers kept running into surveyors in the fields and on the rutted country roads. Planes circled over the cotton fields and pine woods, buzzing like inquisitive flies.

In Ellenton, Jackson, Dunbarton, Meyers Mill and Snelling, word began to get around that a great industrial plant was going to be built somewhere in the area. By fall, after three years of bad crops, everybody was talking about a boom, and the people were planning their lives accordingly.

Last month the bubble burst, and today instead of a boom they are getting ready for the funerals of the peaceful towns in which most of them were born and have spent all their lives.

Ellenton's Mayor H. W. Risher got the news when he walked into his hardware, home appliance and auto supply store and took a look at the headlines. Cubie A. Hill, his partner, waved at him.

A big industrial plant was coming, all right. But it was to be an Atomic Energy Commission plant to produce materials for development of a hydrogen bomb. It would swallow up 250,000 acres in Aiken and Barnwell counties. Ellenton, and the four smaller towns where they had been talking boom, would be swallowed up, too.

More than 500 people—businessmen, farmers, sharecroppers, woodcutters and their families—will have to pull up roots, some of them within six weeks, some in the next four months, all of them within the next year and a half.

Before they go, they'll have checks from the Army Engineers for the homes and land they're leaving behind. For some, there will be a chance to work on the construction of the $260,000,000 project, to be known as the Savannah River Plant. But E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., which is building the plant for the A.E.C., says many of the 8000 construction workers will have to be skilled men brought in from outside.

In Ellenton and the smaller towns, which will be nothing but memories on an out-dated map when the project is finished, they are calling themselves the "first city of World War III." But patriotically, they are not protesting.

"We're all heart sick at being displaced," says Miss Louise Cassels, one of Ellenton's leading citizens. "But if it's really for the good of the country, we'll cooperate 100 per cent."

Miss Cassels is a church leader, musician, and president of Cassels' Co., focal point of Ellenton's business life. She also teaches sixth grade at Ellenton school, a labor of civic zeal.

Her brother, big, white-haired Mike Cassels, operates the business his father founded 60 years ago, says he feels as if they'd had a death in the family. The Cassels store, a unique landmark 110 feet long where townfolk can buy yard goods or frozen spinach, cattle feed or shoelaces, will be engulfed by the atomic age. Once it housed the Ellenton Cash Depository, one of the first of its kind in the U. S.

In Dunbarton, 15 miles east, route 64 is the main street. There Mrs. Pauline D. Rountree stood with her son outside the country store that's supported Rountrees for half a century, and observed that it's mighty hard to pull up roots.

While the other towns disappear, Dunbarton is expected to become the railroad depot for the Savannah River Plant, with eight rail lines leading into the project and a dual highway on either side of the tracks.

The only happy smile you can find in the whole area is on the face of Ralph South. He is a householder, and when he read about the fate of these South Carolina towns back in his home in Palisade, Colo., he hopped in his car and drove east to drum up business. Prospects are brisk, for a lot of the townspeople will take their homes with them.

There have been a few neighbors around the countryside, too, who started talking about dollar profits from the evacuation of the towns. They aroused the indignation of Rev. Robert Parkinson, pastor of Ellenton Baptist church, whose parishioners shooed a magazine writer and photographer out of town the other Sunday.

"We ask for a little less jubilation and rejoicing over the death of our beloved town, which we love next to our country," said Pastor Parkinson, whose church building once succumbed to lightning and a man-made force.

CAPTURE BY AIR
WITH THE FIRST MARINE AIR WING IN KOREA—(P)—Marine Captain David G. Swinford of Santa Ana, Calif., is thought to be the first Marine flier to be instrumental in capturing a band of North Korean guerrillas. He dived upon a house and loosed a burst of 20mm cannon fire.

Fifty North Koreans, a few in uniform and the others in the civilian garb affected by the guerrillas in the area, came tumbling from the doors and windows. Waving white clothes and bowing, they started down the road in the direction of the Marine lines. Swinford made several passes over them, flying at low altitude, "just to keep them in line."

As they neared the lines of the ground Marines, Swinford radioed to tell of the surrendering North Koreans. The ground units sent out a patrol to meet them.

Earth Near Sun In January, U-M Astronomer Says

ANN ARBOR—The earth approaches the sun more closely during January than during any other month of the year, Dr. Hazel M. Losh, assistant professor of astronomy at the University of Michigan, has explained. The closest approach of our planet to the sun was reached on January 1 at about 11 p. m., when the earth was about one and one-half million miles closer than its average of 93 million miles.

"Because of the decreased distance from earth to sun at the time of year when we have our coldest weather, our winters tend to be a little milder than those of the southern hemisphere," Miss Losh points out. "The southern hemisphere's winters occur in June and July, which is the period when the earth is farthest from the sun."

During the cold nights of January, four planets will be visible to the naked eye between sunset and midnight. Venus rises first, accompanied by Mars and Jupiter as evening planets in the southwest sky. By the end of the month, Miss Losh notes, the three will be located close together, in almost a straight line. Saturn will be the fourth planet in this group, rising shortly before midnight at almost exactly the east point of the horizon. It will be the only bright planet visible from midnight until dawn except in the last days of January, when Mercury will become visible just before dawn.

"Saturn, with its celebrated ring system and satellites, will take the place of the rapidly setting Jupiter for observers with small telescopes," Miss Losh says. Brightest star in the sky during January, however, will be Sirius, the most brilliant star in the constellation of Canis Major (The Great Dog). This constellation rises in the southeast below Orion just after dark.

LOTS OF SHEEP

CANBERRA — (P)—Australia had 112,891,000 sheep at March 31 last, Commonwealth Statistician Roland Wilson reported. This is the latest date for which figures are available.

Australia's sheep population fell from 125,000,000 in 1942 to 95,000,000 in 1947, but since then has been rising steadily.

The statistician also announced in a statement that at March 31 Australia had 14,640,000 cattle, the highest number on record. This total included 4,890,000 dairy cattle. At the same date there were 1,123,000 pigs and 1,057,000 horses, Wilson reported.

Perle's Parties Purely Business, Says Perle

By ROSETTE HARGROVE
NEA Staff Writer

LUXEMBOURG — (NEA) — Party-tossing Perle Mesta, America's merry minister to the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg, wants one thing clearly understood: any parties she's tossing these days are strictly business.

She would have you know that when she ministers, she ministers and no monkey business. And she takes her job as America's diplomatic representative in little Luxembourg very seriously.

"I check all reports that go out, besides writing many myself," she says. "You know, for many years I have run my own steel business and iron mines, which does not make me a mere social butterfly."

She just returned to her post from Washington, where she took a "refresher" course with the State Department—and champagne-bottle opening was not on the curriculum. It was a serious thing to go with these serious times. Mrs. Mesta conferred several times with President Truman.

Back at her desk, she still keeps in close touch with Washington. She talks to the capital daily over trans-Atlantic telephone, but won't say whether or not she calls President Truman.

To Madame Minister the party aspect of her career has been considerably overplayed. Between parties, she points out, she led a very serious life in Washington before her diplomatic appointment. "After all," she says, "my life in Washington was not mainly concerned with entertaining on a lavish scale. I was responsible for a number of things, including the passing of many bills."

But don't get the idea that Mrs. Mesta has retired from the party business entirely. She still knows how to set a festive board, and how to seat the right people next to each other.

Her entertaining in Luxembourg has been limited to two or three dinner parties, but they have been in the grand manner. Once she played hostess to 78 people, and on another occasion she had more than 100 Luxembourg burgomasters in to dine.

This Christmas, she played the dual role of Santa Claus and fairy godmother to 1000 Luxembourg children. There were two enormous trees, one for boys and one for girls. There was a puppet show and toys and candy for all the youngsters. And there were several large cases of clothing for the needy among them.

Mrs. Mesta saw the Broadway show, "Call Me Madam," which stars Ethel Merman in the story of a Washington party-tossing lady who becomes minister to a European grand duchy. The play is, of course, rumored to be about Mrs. Mesta.

But the minister herself wouldn't say whether the plot had any resemblance to her career, and she shrugged off any suggestion of romance in her own life (in the play Minister Merman falls for the grand duchy's premier) as "altogether too absurd."

"If I can be as good an ambassador as Ethel Merman is a good actress," Mrs. Mesta says, "I shall be very happy."

Proposed Camp For Aliens Is Rejected

MANILLA — (P)—Secretary of Finance Pio Pedrosa has rejected a proposal to establish a camp for housing aliens who have been ordered deported.

The Bureau of Immigration recommended the camp on the grounds that persons ordered deported for violation of immigration laws are largely Chinese, who probably would be persecuted if returned to their native land.

Pedrosa said the government could not spare funds for such a camp.

New Hydrant Heads Arrive

20 To Be Installed In Business District

Twenty new pumping heads, each containing one six-inch outlet and two two and one-half inch outlets, were received Friday by the city and will be installed on business district hydrants this week, it is reported by H. W. Heideman, city manager.

The new hydrant heads are designed primarily for use with the new fire truck and pumper when it is received. However, use of the new pumping heads will increase the pressure and pumping efficiency of the present city pumper substantially, the city manager said.

Two and one-half inch fire hose can be used directly off the new pumping heads, or a six-inch hose can be used to connect the hydrant to the city pumper, thereby augmenting pumper pressure with normal water pressure.

The present city truck and pumper has six-inch hose to connect with hydrants but the hydrants have had no six-inch connections. Two of the small two and one-half inch hose have been used to carry water from the hydrant to the fire truck pumper, but this process usually eliminates most of the normal city water pressure, Heideman reported.

The new hydrant heads were purchased in Traverse City. If a contemplated program can be carried out, all hydrants in the city will eventually be equipped with the new pumping heads he stated.

The city manager said this increase in hydrant pressure should have an effect on fire insurance rates in the community. After the new pumping heads are installed and the new American-LaFrance truck received, an effort should be made to have the city re-rated for fire insurance, he said.

Three Batting Over .400 In City Dartball

Three players batted over .400 during the first half of the city dartball league, it is announced by John Blomquist, league secretary.

They were Elmer Boal who topped the league with .435, Vern Ekstrom with .414 and Victor Carlson with .414.

J. Jansen .300.

Second round play in the league starts Monday evening, January 8.

Mankind Needs Moral Rebirth

Forum Says Woes Due To Spiritual Slump

A panel of local civic leaders, who discussed the subject, "What is the Basis for World Understanding," at Lincoln PTA meeting Thursday night, agreed after two hours of debate that mankind needed a spiritual rebirth if current problems are to be solved. The group also agreed that more public forums on timely questions should be held in the community.

Participating in the panel were Dr. James H. Fyvie, Rev. Paul Sobel, Rev. William H. Schobert, Rev. F. M. Scheringer, Mrs. Keith Bundy, Mrs. Walter Busch, Lowell Cooper, A. F. Hall, and Carl Olson, Charles Folio, of Escanaba, Upper Peninsula extension supervisor for the University of Michigan, served as moderator.

Europe Doesn't Like Us

Rev. Scheringer and Dr. Fyvie, both of whom have spent considerable time in Europe, stated that Americans are not only ridiculed and disliked by the Russians but by most of the people of Europe, and that Marshall Plan money is tending to make the rich richer and the poor poorer.

Discussions during the forum brought out the recommendation that more might be accomplished by people-to-people contact than by inter-governmental negotiation.

More citizen participation in local affairs would be helpful in making American democracy work better, it was pointed out. Men of the community, in particular, are conspicuous by their absence at PTA meetings and other community functions, it was stated.

Spiritual Failure
Underlying most of the world's problems and lack of understanding, however, is a spiritual failure in the hearts of men. The group agreed that a moral rebirth was essential if a solution to these problems is to be found.

Proceeding the forum the PTA held a short business meeting during which the purchase of six clocks for Lincoln classrooms and gym was approved.

Refreshments were served by mothers of the second grade. The attendance award was won by Mrs. Benjamin Gero's room.

Ice Classes To Begin Thursday

Will Teach Fancy And Figure Skating

Classes in figure and fancy skating will be organized at the Central park skating rink Thursday afternoon and evening, it is announced by T. H. Reque, city recreation director.

Final plans for the classes were discussed at a meeting of the city recreation board last Thursday night.

All persons interested in learning how to do figure and fancy skating are asked to register at the rink warming house after 3 p. m. in the afternoon or in the evening.

It is proposed to organize registrants into classes of eight or less, and to give instructions to each class for a half hour, Reque said. A class for beginners in skating also will be formed if enough interest is shown, he stated.

Skating instruction will be given every Thursday afternoon and evening if weather permits until further notice, the recreation director reported. During this time the rink will be closed to all other skating.

All skating instruction will be free, Reque said. Expenses will be paid by the city recreation department.

Briefly Told

Not Hit-Run Victim—A man found sprawled on the Manistique river bridge Friday night by local police was not a victim of a hit-run driver, police reported Saturday. A medical examination Friday night indicated that he was merely a victim of over-imbibing, and apparently was unable to make it across the bridge. Police found him lying close to the bridge sidewalk. Saturday morning he paid a fine in justice court for drunkenness. A report was widely circulated in the city Saturday that the man had been injured by a hit-and-run driver.

Fire At Mill—The Manistique fire department was called out at 11:20 p. m. Saturday when a hot box on the paper machine at the Manistique Pulp and Paper company plant ignited grease and oil. Mill employees had succeeded in extinguishing the fire by the time the fire truck arrived. There was no damage.

Attending Conference—Rev. Paul Sobel left this morning to attend an area preaching school conference for Presbyterian ministers in Minneapolis. The conference will include all Presbyterian ministers from the Dakotas, Minnesota, Wisconsin, and Upper Michigan. Rev. Sobel will return here Friday.

Prine Named Chief Raban

U. P. Shriners Elect Officers On Friday

Ray L. Prine, of Asheville, N. C., formerly of Manistique, was elected chief raban of Ahmed Temple, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, at that organization's annual meeting Friday night at Marquette.

John Collins, of Negaunee, was elected potentate of the shrine at the session.

Prine is in line to succeed to Collins' position next year. During the past year he served as assistant chief raban of the temple. The former Manistique man, who moved to Asheville about two months ago, has retained his membership in the Upper Peninsula shrine organization. He attended the meeting Friday night and also visited friends in Manistique during the weekend.

Twenty-six shriners from Manistique besides Prine, attended the meeting. They were Dr. George A. Shaw, Wilbur Fairchild, Roy Anderson, Jack Wilde, Everett Cookson, Clifford Cool, Charles Isackson, Stanley Crowe, Arthur Thorp, Dr. E. J. Brenner, Mauritz Carlson, Ludwig Hough, Neil Reese, Malcolm Nelson, Leon Nicholson, G. Leslie Bouschor, Howard Hewitt, Theodore Richards, Edward V. Jackson, A. W. Heitman, Fred H. Hahne, Leland Headland, Gust Larson, E. H. Jewell, N. H. Modders and William Philion.

Junior Vaudeville Thursday To Help Finance Activities

Proceeds from the vaudeville, to be presented Thursday evening by the junior class of Manistique high school, will be used to finance various class activities during the year, it is announced.

The junior class usually undertakes an ambitious program during its school year. Its first major event will be the junior-senior banquet, scheduled for mid-winter. Now an annual affair, the banquet was first put on in 1945.

A second event is the junior-senior prom, conducted jointly by junior and senior classes. The prom is held in the spring, and usually terminates outside activities for both classes.

Nine acts have already been booked for the vaudeville show, and it is expected that an additional act will be available by Thursday. Feature attractions will be the Music Masters orchestra, the Accordion band, the Schoenmesters quartet, and George Macfarlane and his acts of magic.

An advance sale of adult tickets is now underway. Children's tickets will be available at the door.

Germfask

JOHN KETOLA

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at the Grace Ev. Lutheran church at Germfask for John Ketola, 71, who passed away at his home on Thursday morning.

Mr. Ketola was born in Lapua, Finland March 24, 1879. He lived there as a young man, and was married there in 1900. In 1912 he came to the United States settling first in Seney, then living in Germfask for a short time. He moved to Negaunee where he stayed until 1930 and then moved to Germfask where he had resided since on his farm.

He is survived by his wife, three sons, Emil, of Seney; John and William of Germfask; and by two daughters, Mrs. John Mattson of Grand Marais, and Mrs. Dan Olson of Elgin, Ill. There are 35 grandchildren, and two granddaughters, one living in Finland and Mrs. Kate Turpin of Newberry.

Services were conducted by Rev. A. G. Tamminen, pastor of the Bethlehem Ev. Lutheran church of Newberry of which Mr. Ketola was a member. Pallbearers were Sam Sukki, John Lustila, Robert Lustila, Harold Lustila, William Ackley and Eldon Kelly. Burial was in Riverside Cemetery at Germfask under the direction of the Kefauver and Jackson funeral home of Manistique.

Stephenson Here Tuesday; Braves Next St. Joe Foe

Escanaba's two high school basketball teams get back into action this week.

The Eskimos, in fact, get into action twice. Tomorrow night they play host to Stephenson and Friday night they entertain Menominee.

St. Joseph Trojans make their post-holiday debut Saturday night when they are host to Coach Eldon Keil's Gladstone team.

For the Eskimos, it will be an opportunity to break into the victory column for the first time after six straight defeats. For the Trojans, it will be a chance to resume their winning ways. They already have won seven games, three of them in a row, while losing only to Manistiquie.

Steves Just So-So

It is possible that the Eskimos will get their first win Tuesday night. So far this year, Stephenson hasn't shown too much power. It had difficulty nailing out a so-so Bark River-Harris team by one point and it lost to St. Joseph and Menominee by fairly large margins.

The Eskimos have been practicing regularly during the holidays and Coach Steve Baltic said they are "beginning to jell." Baltic said he had been experimenting with several combinations of his starting five but had not determined which would start Tuesday. The starting lineup, however, undoubtedly will include Jim Heiden, ToJo ohnston, Dick Sholin, Tom Smith and Paul Baldwin. Others who will be ready to move in are Paul Gundersen, John and Dick Peterson, Jim Timms and Nick Prokos.

For the Trojans, it will be "the biggest game of the season until tournament time," said Coach Tom St. Germain, who warned that Saturday's game would be "no 19 point margin" like the last meeting of the two teams at Gladstone.

Keil Will Be Ready
"Coach Keil will be ready for us this time," said St. Germain. "Since we played Gladstone, they have won three in a row. They defeated Manistiquie by seven points and St. Joseph lost to the Emeralds by six."

The Trojans have had no practice since the finals of the Parochial tournament at Houghton, which they won by defeating Sacred Heart, Laurium and St. Paul of Negeauque.

On the basis of his play in the tournament, Bill Baker, diminutive forward, may have won back his starting spot from Jim Gravelle although practices this week will determine which of the two will start.

The rest of the lineup will be as usual with Jack Courneene, Don Paulin, Pete Kutches and Fred Boddy getting the starting call.

Negro Charges NCAA Discrimination

DALLAS — (AP) — Delegates to the National Collegiate Athletic association convention, headed by President Hugh Willett of Southern California, streamed into Dallas today. A few came to town last night but none of the officials was on hand to comment on the first controversial question to be projected—Negroes in NCAA meeting in Texas.

Mack M. Greene, director of athletics at Wilberforce State College of Ohio, accused the NCAA of racial discrimination by bringing the convention to Dallas in the first place.

He said in a letter to Kenneth

Ransom Leads by 3 Strokes; Snead Plays With Fracture

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Henry Ransom, a solemn Texan, leads the field by three strokes going into the final round of the $15,000 Los Angeles open golf tournament today.

But Sam Snead, although trailing Ransom by four strokes, still makes the big news.

Slammin' Sam, the miracle man, took the play away from Ransom's third line round by confirming last night what had been widely suspected—that he's been playing with a broken hand.

One of the small bones on the back of his left hand snapped two weeks ago in the third round of the Miami open, which he went on to win. Snead tried to keep it secret until after the final round in this tourney today, so it wouldn't sound like an alibi. But finally he admitted that X-rays had shown a clean break.

After today's final 18 holes, he'll lay off for at least six weeks, he said, to give the bone a chance to knit.

"I heard it snap," the 36-year-old West Virginian said, "but it didn't seem to bother me too much. After the first round here (when he shot a 67) it hurt so badly I went to a doctor. If I'd known before that first day, I'd probably have got an 88."

As it is, Snead is in a strong position if the methodical 39-year-old Ransom shows any sign of slipping.

Five other golfers still are much in the picture. Cary Middlecoff, who gave up a dental practice in Memphis, Tenn., to concentrate on golf, is tied at 211 with Doug Ford of Briarcliffe, N. Y., three strokes behind Ransom and one ahead of Snead.

At par 213 are the ever-threatening Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago, who won this open two years ago, and a couple of youngsters, Joe Kirkwood Jr., the movie "Joe Palooka," and Jimmy Clark, one-time lifeguard from Laguna Beach, Calif.

Soo Boxers Prepare For Golden Gloves

Nahma Still Unbeaten In Central Loop

Coach Harold (Babe) Anderson's Nahma high school basketball team still is undefeated and leads the Central league, with only Trenary as a serious challenger.

Nahma has won five games without defeat in league play while Trenary has won four and lost one. Perkins and Rapid River are tied for third place with four-three records. Powers is next with two-two, Cooks and Rock have one-five and Bark River has yet to win its first league game in two tries.

The league leaders will have their hands full Friday night when they play a dangerous Rapid River team on the Nahma court. Rapid River was upset last week by its traditional rival, Rock, and that defeat may rattle Coach Norman Slough's boys enough to take it out on Nahma.

Bark River hopes to win its first game Friday night when it entertains Rock on the Bark River floor. In this game, the shoe will be on the other foot for Rock. The Little Giants will be playing on Bark River's small floor, a thing Rock's opponents had to do for many years.

Another rugged league encounter shapes up at Perkins Saturday night when Trenary plays a return game. In the first meeting of the two teams in the season's opener, Trenary won easily, 54-40.

In a non-league game, Hermansville will play at Perkins tomorrow night.

College Stars Get Little Pay For Work

MOBILE, Ala.—(AP)—Fifty-four college stars who made their first pre-appearance in the second annual senior bowl game Saturday played mostly for glory after all.

The South team defeated a North squad which drew heavily on southwest conference talent, 19 to 18, with a glittering passing attack.

When it was over, senior bowl sponsors reached into their own pockets for the second year to make the payoff to players who saw action.

The 27 players on the winning south team received $220 apiece. The same number of players on the north squad got checks for $150.

Bucky Curtis, sticky-fingered Vanderbilt end, caught two touchdowns passes and set up a third score for the south. Kentucky's All-America tackle Bob Gain kicked the deciding point with a conversion after the third score.

in the Upper Peninsula Golden Gloves is asked to see Gallo, Practice is being held Monday, Wednesday and Friday at the Malcolm school gym from now until tourney time.

Seven boxers, including three of last year's Upper Peninsula champions have signed up to represent the Sault in competition, but more are desired.

Truman VanLaven, who won at Milwaukee will be in competition again, as well as Bucko Massey, chosen outstanding fighter at Milwaukee and Leo Leask, who lost out in the semi-finals.

Four other Sault fighters who will be in competition are Jack Kahlfleisch, Carl Vert, Larry Simkins and Jerry MacGregor. Coach Gallo has announced a special invitation to Army and Coast Guard men stationed in the Sault, and to any other boxers interested in competition.

Rock Is Host To Legion Tournament

ROCK—The third annual Upper Peninsula American Legion bowling tournament will open Feb. 17 at the Maple bowl in Rock.

The tournament will continue for six weekends, winding up Sunday, March 25. Team, doubles and singles events have been scheduled.

ABC moral support sanction has been given the tournament with high score recognition. All entry fees will be returned in prize money. The tournament is open to all Upper Peninsula members of the American Legion.

Final date for filing of entries is Feb. 3. Information and entry blanks may be obtained by writing to Les Maki, tournament chairman, Rock.

Members of Rock post No. 559, American Legion, will entertain visiting Legionnaires.

Spilling The Dope

By Charlie Larson

Basketball returns to the sport scene on a full scale this week after the Christmas holidays and several questions arise.

Will the Eskimos continue to improve on the promise they showed against Ishpeming and Gladstone in their last two pre-holiday games? If they start to take their training seriously, we think they will. They probably won't set the world afire but they should win a few games.

While St. Joseph Trojans keep up their hot pace? They'll be tough to beat because they've got a sound, hard-driving team. But in Gladstone Saturday night they're going to have their hands full. Few teams beat Coach Eldon Keil twice in the same year and his boys are coming.

What about Manistiquie? The Emeralds appear to have one of their best teams in years. Their victories have included Soo, St. Joe, Menominee and Newberry. Their only loss was to Gladstone. They're going to be a tough team to beat down the stretch.

Will Nahma be defeated? Coach Babe Anderson's boys, most of them underclassmen, have won seven in a row and look good. But at least one opposing coach says he'll beat them. "They have one set pattern of play and can be beaten," he says. Remains to be seen.

Will Bark River-Harris win a game this year (now that Cooks and Rock have broken the ice)? They'll win pretty soon or some heads will be lopped off, we hear. Perhaps their first win will be Friday night against Rock.

And so it goes.

Dufek Is Silent
A "We Want Dufek" chant brought a simple "thanks" from the blond Chicago fullback whose two touchdowns brought home the fifth Big Ten Rose bowl victory in five years.

Announcement of football letter-winners was expected today but election of the 1951-52 captain to succeed Al Wahl, big tackle from Oak Park, Ill., was to be held up until the return of Chuck Ortmann and Wahl. Both went to Honolulu to participate in exhibition games.

Writers Honor Dead Army Griddler
DES MOINES —(AP)—Football's "man of the year" is Lt. John Trent who died a hero's death on the battlefields of Korea.

Selection of Trent as winner of the annual award of the Football Writers Association of America was announced today by Bert McGrane, secretary of the organization.

Trent, captain of the 1949 Army team, went to Korea as a second lieutenant following his graduation from the U. S. Military academy at West Point last spring.

He died Nov. 15 on a Korean hillside while crawling from foxhole to foxhole to alert his weary men. An Associated Press report of his death said:

"The whole hillside exploded with Communists as Trent half crawled, half slid around, warning his men to stay awake, despite the fact they hadn't slept for three days."

The High School Employees basketball team meets the Businessmen's team in a "blackout basketball" game.

Players and official's uniforms, floor lines, the ball, basketball and baskets will be outlined by luminous paint, which glows in the dark.

The Businessmen will be represented by Eugene Falck, Eino Topola, Francis Trombly, Edward Lindstrom, Bernard Martila and Bernard LeClaire.

The game will start at 8 o'clock. Proceeds will be used to purchase new jerseys for the high school basketball team.

'The Babe' Is Woman Athlete of '50
PONTE VEDRA BEACH, Fla.—(AP)—It's a great thing to be named woman athlete of the year. Babe Zaharias means it sincerely.

The Babe has been a big name in women's athletics since 1932, when—as a 16-year-old kid from Dallas—she won two events in the Olympics.

The award in the Associated Press poll as woman athlete of the year is hers for the fifth time for 1950. She also got it for 1932, 1945, 1946 and 1947. A year ago she was selected woman athlete of the first half of the 20th century.

Yet every time is a thrill to this friendly, completely unaffected woman. She goes right on trying to win them.

"If I can impress sports writers and the sports public 15 or 20 years more I'll enjoy it," she said. "In fact I'm working on the second half of the 20th century. And like port wine the older I get the better I get."

Gussie Is Second
She's off to a good start in 1951. Yesterday she won the Ponte Vedra club women's golf open with a 54-hole score of 228. In the last round Mrs. Zaharias met and turned back a stiff challenge from

Gladstone Indians Trounce Newberry

GLADSTONE — The Gladstone Indians got off to a good start in the Upper Peninsula Amateur Hockey league Sunday when they walloped Newberry, 9-0, on the local ice.

The Indians scored three in each period.

Opening goal was made by Les 'Moose' Young, one of the newcomers on the team, on an assist by Walter 'Lefty' Lake. Young also got the second counter on an assist by Jim Rose, Walter Lake then counted on an assist from Rose.

In the second period Neil Sinclair netted one with the assistance of Billy Bovin. Marvin Erickson got the fifth one of the game on an assist by Gideon Sloan and Carl Johnson scored on an assist by Erickson.

In the final period, Rose scored unassisted and Sinclair also counted on a solo jaunt. Rose also scored the final goal on a beautiful piece of work with Lefty Lake cooperating.

The game was extremely clean, only two penalties being called. Gideon Sloan and Les Young each spent two minutes in the box.

Wallace Cameron handled the tilt.

The Indians travel to Stambaugh next Sunday.

First Win Still Eludes Bark River

BARK RIVER—That first victory still eludes Bark River-Harris high school cagers.

Saturday night they lost to a fast Gwinn team, 41 to 20 in a game played at Rock.

The Broncos were weak on rebounds, losing them consistently to their smaller opponents, and they missed 19 free throws.

Joe LaVigne, led the Broncos with nine points but George Erickson of Gwinn was high scorer with 12 points.

Bark River hopes to break into the win column Friday night when it entertains Rock, a team which won its first victory only last week.

The Bronco seconds handed Gwinn reserves their first defeat of the season, winning 30 and 29 in an overtime.

DETROITERS LEAD

CHICAGO — (AP)—Paced by Ed Lubanski with 876, the Detroit Stroh's rolled a five-man tally of 4049 for first place tonight in the annual Ray Schalk bowling sweepstakes.

Meet In Escanaba
The Hawks stayed with them all the way—no doubt about that—but in the end it was experience that paid off. As one Houghton fan put it: "A team that has played together as long as this one has is bound to have an advantage over a team just being organized."

But the consensus is that the Hawks are definite comers and destined to make a commendable showing in the NWM championship race.

Escanaba will have a chance for revenge against Portage Lake when the Pioneers play at the fairgrounds rink in Escanaba at 8:15 Wednesday night.

Wings Shut Out Boston Six, 3-0

DETROIT — (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings, fresh from a victory that increased their National hockey league lead, tackle tomorrow night the only club that's giving them trouble in the title race.

The Wings, who beat Boston last night 3-0, will duel with the Toronto Maple Leafs here.

Detroit now holds a five-point margin over Toronto, which was idle last night.

In Saturday's two games neither of the top contenders won. Montreal beat Detroit 5-2, and New York lashed Toronto 4-2.

Detroit's win over Boston last night was goalie Terry Sawchuk's sixth shutout of the season. The rookie took over the No. 1 rating in the league in that department.

Meanwhile teammate Gordie Howe got one of Detroit's goals to give him 40 points, highest in the league's individual scoring race.

The New York Rangers perched in third place in the standings—their highest position this season—thanks to five triumphs in their last six games.

HOUGHTON — Undefeated Portage Lake snapped the Escanaba win streak at four with a 10-5 victory here yesterday afternoon but not before the Hawks, newest entry in the fast Northern Wisconsin-Michigan league, had given the veteran Pioneers a rousing fight all the way.

The pace never slackened as the two NWM powers played 60 minutes of as fast and interesting hockey as has been seen in Dee Stadium this season.

A record paid attendance crowd of 1,192 sat the Hawks put up a staunch fight against the puck wizardry of the Buckovich-Ruelle-paced Pioneers. Veteran Copper Country observers said Escanaba was the best team Portage Lake had faced this season and that the bare score was no true indication of the caliber of this hockey test.

"The Hawks are a better team than Eagle River," was the comment of one oldtime Houghton fan.

11 Scoreless Minutes

Seeing the Buckovichs in action against the Olsons gave rabid Copper Country fans a field day, and they loved every minute of it. For Escanaba's Marc and Ted Olson it was a "homecoming." They starred for four years with Michigan Tech varsity, and the Buckovichs have starred for Portage Lake and Painesdale for "umpteenth" years.

The two NWM pacesetters battled for 11:08 scoreless minutes of the first period before Tony Bukovich got one past Goalie Ben Artwick on an assist by Jackie Ruelle. They teamed again a minute and 20 seconds later to make it 2-0, but a half minute later Marc Olson scored on Ted Olson's assist to cut it to 2-1. At 13:46 Tony rang the gong on a high, hard one from the blue line.

In fact, it was a big day all around for the tricky Tony Bukovich, Detroit Red Wing player who came home to run his own team and his own business in Houghton.

Tony scored five goals, two of them from just inside the blue line. Joe Ricci, former Michigan Tech star, tallied three for Portage Lake.

Those who came to see a Buckovich-Olson duel were not disappointed. Marc scored twice and had two assists, and Left-winger Ted lit the bulb once and had three assists. Other Hawk goals were tallied by carrot-thatched Bob Porter, the Detroit, and Julius Artwick.

Playing as if the Stanley Cup itself were at stake, the Pioneers came through with a fine exhibition of speed, accurate passing and beautiful team play. And they never let up.

More Meat In 1951, But Prices Are Up

CHICAGO—(P)—More meat but at higher prices was served up on the national platter this year. The experts calculate the same trends for 1951.

The reason that consumer incomes are on the rise. If shortages of durable goods increase, even a larger proportion of the expanding income will go into competition for meat, thus forcing prices higher.

And though greater meat supplies appear to be in the offing, military needs may reduce the civilian supply below the level available this year, already squeezed by a population increase of some 19,000,000 in the last 10 years.

Military Needs Grow
The American meat institute estimates civilians will eat about 149 pounds of meat apiece in 1951, compared with 145 pounds this year.

This estimate, an institute spokesman said, took into account an expected increase in military needs and an increase in population. Most of the added meat will be pork, although beef consumption also is expected to be slightly higher, this source said.

H. M. Conway, market analyst for the National Livestock Producers association, noted there has been "a pronounced uptrend in the hog production cycle and a noticeable upswing in both cattle and sheep."
